ATTENTION VETERANS

World War II veterans wishing to secure Government guaranteed loans should apply to a lending institution. In going to a lender you should take your original discharge papers as well as information on your plans and financial condition, such as earnings, assets, expenditures, etc.

It is not necessary for the veteran to apply to the VA first, although it is prepared to furnish pertinent information desired by applicants. The so-called G. O. Loans are made by the lending institution, not by the Government. A veteran who makes a loan must be prepared to pay it back in full on the regular dates just like any other loan.

Under the terms of the G. I. Bill, the Veterans Administration guarantees up to 50 per cent of the loan, up to a maximum guarantee of $4,000 for a home or farm.

Among the features of the guaranteed home loans is the provision that the interest rate shall not exceed 4 per cent. Also the veteran has the right to pay off part or all of the loan before it becomes due, if he desires.

A World War II veteran has until July 1957 to exercise his loan guarantee right. The same plan goes as to a business, except the guarantee is $2,000.00.

Q. I am a widow receiving death pension for myself and my daughter. My daughter will be 18 years of age this month and is attending business school. Will I continue to receive pension for her while she is at school?

A. Yes, if the daughter is taking a course of instruction approved by the Veterans Administration. Pension or compensation may be continued after a child's 18th birthday and until the completion of education or training but not after the child reaches the age of 21.

Q. I am the widow of a World War I veteran and have heard that I am now entitled to receive pension. What proof should I submit with my claim?

A. There are three kinds of evidence you should submit with your application: First, proof of your marriage to the veteran. Second, proof that any prior marriage of the veteran or yourself have been legally dissolved. And third, proof of the veteran's death. The claim and supporting evidence should be forwarded to the VA as promptly as possible.

POOL ATTRACTS THRONGS
Dunn.—Dunn's Memorial Swimming Pool is the most popular place in town these hot days, and attendance is much better than even had been expected. Coach Paul Waggoner, manager of the pool, said.

Wounded swans have been heard to make a musical sound as they sailed to earth, so "the death song of a swan" is not a myth.

"CITY CHICKEN" DINNER

"City chicken" centering the table, accompanied by a tangy sauce and buttered green beans, is sure to bring favorable comment from your summer diners. These veal cubes, threaded on wooden skewers, are braised—dredged in seasoned flour and browned, then cooked with a little liquid in a covered frying-pan.

BUILD THIS WILLYS-OVERLAND JEEP STATION WAGON

Dear Dad: Junior probably isn't old enough to drive the family car but with your help he (and you) can have loads of fun "driving" this 7 1/2 inch electric motor driven model Station Wagon. It is powered with two Eveready No. 950 flashlight batteries housed in a regular flashlight case. You can steer this car remotely—make it turn to the right or left or even back up! Here's how it works. An ordinary 4 to 7 foot long automobile speedometer cable runs from the rear of the chassis to the motor and the wheels in the desired direction. Thus, by twisting the cable to the left or right you can turn the wheels in the desired direction. Varnish insulated wire running from the Eveready batteries to the small electric motor which drives the rear wheels. Your local radio repair shop stocks the special switch and wire necessary for the control while your hobby shop carries the balsa wood, wheels and electric motor. You can build this car from these plans and instructions and you can obtain additional information from the August issue of MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED magazine.

Good luck, Doug Rolfe

The Tablets He Will Not Sell

They are modern miracle drugs... the sulfas... but your pharmacist will not sell them to you without a prescription.

He knows they are dramatically effective against many infections... are saving thousands of lives each year... but he also knows that, improperly used, they may affect the kidneys, cause headaches and severe nausea, or produce other equally uncomfortable and undesirable reactions.

When your physician prescribes the sulfa drugs he watches for these danger signs and can take prompt, effective steps to prevent serious complications. Without this supervision you cannot take sulfa drugs safely. The sulfa drugs are not the only drugs which are unsafe for self-medication. There are others in the same class which require the supervision of a physician to safeguard their use. They, too, are dispensed on prescription.

Remember this: your pharmacist will never sell you a drug over his counter unless it is safe to take according to the directions on the label. That is your protection against knowingly damaging your health... and it's his refusal to sell potentially dangerous drugs except on prescription that gives you your greatest protection.

Your pharmacist is responsible for your safety in the drugs you use... and he takes his obligation seriously. This is but one phase of your pharmacist's contribution to public health.—Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parks, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.
