communication between management and employees was emphasized by Bob Neff when speaking to a meeting of the News & Views reporters held at the A & E office building in Mt. Holly on Dec. 13, 1967. Through the news columns and pictures, employees tell of their activities and interests. Management speaks to the employees through the editorials and features, telling them what the company is trying to accomplish. So we urge you to read all your News and Views so you will be well informed about your company and fellow employees. Have you noticed anything new about this issue?

AMERICAN PLANT NEWS

News time again?? Spring is just around the corner, I think. Or is it?

I enjoyed the meeting with all our news reporters at the Main Office. After getting acquainted with them, I know why our magazine is such a good one.

"Red" Linderman sold some winning tickets at our plant for a Volunteer Fire Dept. Taylor Johnson won the shotgun. Os Waldroop won four turkeys and a ham at the "shoot", and one of the winning tickets belonged to me. Lloyd Proctor held another winning ticket. Os won 5 times out of 15 shots.

Ruth Jordan has two new great-grandchildren. John Davis recently retired after working as a quiller operator for 25 years. He has ten children, who are living all over the country, so I'm sure he's going to do a lot of traveling. He has gone to Miami, Florida now. Lucky John!

Welcome to our new employees: Rosemary Smith, David Thrift, and William Radford. Welcome also to: Steve Norton, trainee, who is visiting our plant. James P. Helton's son-in-law has gone back to Vietnam for a second time. Hope he'll return safely. Ray Henley's father is able to walk again after suffering a broken hip. Fred Gantt is in the hospital. We sure miss him. Hope he'll soon be back with us.

Did anyone see a pony riding around in a stationwagon? Ken Silvers bought it for his twin sons, and were they surprised to see it riding home in the car!

Rosemary Smith is glad this is leap year. She just might get up enough nerve to propose to someone.

So long 'til next edition.
