Messages From State Committees

I. Temperance Education

Some things a moderate Drinker can never be sure of—

1. That he will never at any time go beyond his idea of moderation.
2. That alcohol will not beget a craving for itself, and lead him into drunkenness.
3. That no young man or woman will be led to ruin by following his example.
4. That he will ever be able to combat the sin of drunkenness by his own drinking.
5. That he will never transmit to his children a tendency, which backed up by the example of father or mother, may prove irresistible to the offspring.
6. That he will never transgress the Divine precept—"We that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves."

Alma D. Dockery, Chairman

M. on Friday and no books will be accepted after one o'clock.

The State Scrap Book Committee is asked to find the place of exhibiting at 10:30 A. M., that we may organize our activities. Each book has to be registered and given a number.

Fannie T. Newsome, Committee Chairman

III. To all Federated Clubs:

We urge each club to be sure and make some contribution this year to our project for the blind, "The Negro Braille Magazine." We notice from our financial report that more than one third of our clubs made no contribution, whatever, for the blind in 1960. Let us do better this year. Remember every little bit helps. This is so important to the blind who depend on us for Negro news. We must not fail them.

L. V. Merrick, Chairman

yond the walls of our home and into community, state and world problems. Though an alternate delegate last fall to the U. N. General Assembly, on one occasion she was hailed, "The real voice of the American people."

II. In condensed form some of the most helpful hints, to Parents from Parents. It is "Family Clinic" each month in Parent Magazine. The same thing never works in every household, but what does work is worth passing on. The "Know how" is pretty difficult in handling problems of today.

III. "Each of us must come to his sense of worship by his own path, with such help as the doctrines of his parents, his church and his society give him." In the magazine women believe in — Ladies Home Journal — read "Where is God?" Now turn to page 43 — "Education and woman's aims." Tell your teen-age friends to read—"Good Manners Get You Places"—it might be a little late for some of us. These are all short and in the same magazine.

IV. "A Pioneer" Service for our colleges, by Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C.

EBONY again—"Operation Interracial Friendship," aimed at breaking the color barrier.

Negro students' contacts with whites is Dr. Berta Hamilton's technique. A promoter of the Golden Rule. The foresight and fine cooperation of Dr. S. E. Duncan, president of the college explains the success of the enterprise.

V. Interested people? — Having grown up with McCall's Magazine, I still hang on to it—"400 Famous People and How Their Childhood Affected Them." You will find some surprising facts here.

All of these you can find in your Public Library; if not in your own magazine rack. Happy reading!
