2. To work with the teachers in organizing play.
3. To care for the children on the playground by:
 - a. Caring for physical needs.
 - b. Preventing accidents.
 - c. Directing play.
 - d. To cooperate with the Boy Patrol in directing traffic.
4. To develop a spirit of helpfulness and good-will between teacher and girl patrol--- girl patrol and children.

We belong to you. Help us serve.

Girls' Safety Patrol

PATROL FORCE

The patrol boys of Elm St. School have been definitely assigned to places by our advisor, Miss Butler. There are 36 patrol boys in all, 18 seniors and 16 juniors, all of whom are working for the safety of the school... The captains for the senior and junior forces have been appointed by Miss Butler and Mrs. Schroder. Senior force, Eddie Hatcher, Captain and James Foxworth, Lieutenant. Junior force: Percy Payne, Captain and Glenn Craven, Lieutenant. We are trying hard not to have a single accident this year. Please cooperate with us. Our first duty is to be an example for others and to give our school the very best service.

LUNCHROOM MONITORS

We are very proud of Elm St. cafeteria. 25 children act as hosts and hostesses. We are under the direction of Miss Chatfield. Our first grades have been with us 2 weeks and they are learning to select their food and use good table manners. Some of the girls have worked out a color scheme for their tables. Each table has a bowl of colorful flowers. The monitors are doing their best to make the cafeteria a place where all will enjoy eating.

The Junior Red Cross nurses have been appointed in each grade from the fourth through the sixth. We met last Monday afternoon with our advisor, Miss McCrary. There we discussed our duties as a nurse. We also learned what new supplies had recently been sent to our clinic from the Central office and how to use those. We all want to thank the Central office for sending these things to our school.

BASEMENT MONITORS

We would like to continue keeping our basement clean by not throwing waste and papers on the floor. Will each child please try to keep the lavatories clean and not use more soap than necessary? Don't run in the basement for you may knock someone down and hurt him.

The basement monitors are only one of the many units of helpers in our school. We however need the cooperation of each child just as much as any group of workers. Won't you do your part in helping us to make our school one of which we can justly be proud?

The following were elected officers: Jean Rike, president; Geraldine Lee, vice-president; Betty Lee, secretary. We are going to meet every two weeks.
