

Contralto, Organist Featured on Sunday

Two of New Bern's most talented musicians will be presented in a program of Jewish music Sunday afternoon, at 3 p.m. in the Music Hall of the Harris Conservatory of Music in Rocky Mount.

With Rabbi Jerome Tolachko of Kinston as the narrator, Catherine Latta, contralto, and Mrs. James Haggold, organist, are to perform before a critical and highly appreciative audience.

The program is under sponsorship of the Conservatory Organ club, an Eastern Carolina organization of organists of which Mrs. Ralph Warrington of New Bern is vice-president.

PRETTY SMART—Those words aptly describe the lovely secretary that Earl Finch of Ace Electrical has the pleasure of gazing at across his desk each working day. It just goes to show you that some guys get all the breaks. The young lady, happily married to E. Garland White, is the former Betty Lou Davenport of Trenton. Here she is seen at the time she was crowned Miss Jones County, and it is easy to see why she was also Jones County's Dairy Princess. She is 19 years old, 5-6 and weighs 126 pounds. Her other statistics are 35-24-36. Aside from being exceptionally attractive and equally efficient, Betty Lou is as nice a person as you could ever hope to find.

WATER SKIING IN A TUB
 Rutherford, N. J.—Water ski while standing still? Yes, indeed. Nicholas Baldanza has patented a device called "Skirama" which lets you ski in 18 inches of water without moving. The device is to train water skiers, but it also provides the enjoyment of skiing without any of the hazards.
 The Skirama user stands on Skis in a six-foot long tub while water is pumped past at eight or 10 miles an hour. The skier hangs on a tow rope and, for realism, a large fan blows in his face.

PRINCESS IS ALL SET
 Monte Carol, Monaco—Princess Grace Kelly, who hopes for a male heir to the throne, is prepared for one or more. She has three different layettes in preparation.
 One is all white, a second is straw yellow, and the third is pale green. The former Grace Kelly of Hollywood is expecting her second child around March 15. Her first child, Princess Caroline, is 13 months old.

It even pays to cry over spilled milk—if crying prevents the spilling of more.

A certain small boy here in New Bern has reached that stage in life where he is losing his baby teeth.
 This isn't unusual, of course, seeing as how the same thing has been happening even since Cain and Abel went running to their Mama and displayed a vacancy of the same sort.
 There probably wasn't a Good Fairy back in Biblical times, however. She showed up later with pennies for moppets who placed a tooth under their pillow and dreamed of sudden wealth.
 In due time, to satisfy succeeding generations, she had to increase her generosity to a nickel, then a dime, and in recent years to a quarter or more.
 A quarter is what this certain little boy we're talking about has been getting. Being a free spender and heavy hoarder at one and the same time, he obviously didn't have enough loose teeth to keep him firmly established in his manner of living.
 That's why his grandmother, who puts her own store-bought teeth in a glass of water in the bathroom every night, was short her uppers the other morning.

 After searching everywhere else imaginable, she got a bright idea. She shuffled over to the little boy's bed, reached under the pillow and found the missing molars.
 Being a grandmother who craves nothing better out of life than highly intelligent grandchildren, she tip-toed to a bureau drawer, extracted her last dollar from a well-worn pocketbook, and played the Good Fairy herself.

A child educated only at school is an uneducated child.—Santayana.
 Many prayers remain unanswered pending endorsement of our deeds.
