IN NEW BERN TODAY

Gee, it's wonderful to have all the gang back from college for the Christmas holidays—wonderful for them and wonderful for us. It seems like ages since everybody had a chance to be together.

Some of us have had more time for fun than others. A great many of us have been working in the various stores, and by tonight we'll be worn out. Still, it's nice to have your own money to buy gifts for those you want to remember.

Having a vacation from school during the snow has been very enjoyable, but we'll have to pay for it dearly next spring by attending classes longer than we normally would. It's the same old story of never getting something for nothing.

Teen agers, like everybody else, have a problem in deciding what to select for that very special one. Dad isn't the only one who is apt to end up with an outlandish present. A lot of the younger set are going to be in the same boat.

Most any gift is thrilling, though, when it comes from that certain boy or girl. It isn't the gift, but the giver, that makes it appreciated. That's the way it ought to be, since placing a dollar and cents value on a present isn't in the true spirit of Christmas.

We have been prouder than ever during the holidays of our singers and band members at New Bern high. They have certainly demonstrated their ability, and the excellent training received from Mr. Donald Smith and Mr. David Walters.

Want to give your mother another gift for Christmas, in addition to the one you'll place under the tree? Why not help her with the housework today, tomorrow, and for the rest of the holidays?

With this suggestion, we extend to all teen agers a wish for a very Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year.

LAST MINUTE REMINDER—Ann Bland makes sure that Santa Claus doesn't forget her when he makes his rounds on Christmas Eve. It isn't hard for him to remember someone as lovely to look at as this New Bern High school teen-ager. —Photo by Billy Benners.

Keep It Sacred

If God so loved us that He gave His Son,
A ransom for the sins of everyone,
How shall we value Christmas—count its worth?
Let's take care not to desecrate,
As in our joy we celebrate
The anniversary of the Christ Child's birth.
Be merry, yes, and may all woes take wing,
But most of all proclaim the new-born king.

(Continued from page fourteen) grow, nor thorns infest the ground. He comes to make his blessings flow far as the curse is found, far as the curse is found, far as, far as the curse is found.

4. He rules the world with truth and grace, and makes the nations prove the glories of his righteousness, and wonders of his love, and wonders of his love.

May your garden and surroundings express to the many persons who pass your door this Christmas the sentiment expressed in the following lines:

"Everywhere, Everywhere, Christmas Tonight"
Christmas in lands of the fir tree and pine,
Christmas in lands of the palm tree and vine,
Christmas where snow peaks stand solemn and white,
Christmas where cornfields lie sunny and bright,
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight.

Christmas where children are hopeful and gay,
Christmas where old men are patient and gray,

Christmas where peace like a dove in its flight

Broods o'er brave men in the thick of the fight,
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight.
