IN NEW BERN TODAY

Those of us who are now attending New Bern High school can do worse when we graduate than follow in the footsteps of the Class of 1953.

Members held their first reunion on Saturday night, December 27th, at the Hotel Governor Tryon. It was a well planned semi-formal dinner dance, and they had a wonderful time getting together after a lapse of five years.

Reunions don't just happen, which explains why other classes have never promoted similar gatherings for New Bern High alumni. This one got its start way back in August, and there was plenty of work to do.

A committee composed of Chris Grimsley, Gloria Davis Rabon, Rosemary Romanus, Thomas Smith, John Hoke and Lee Atkinson was named to make advance preparation. Some committees don't function, but this one did an excellent job.

Classmates everywhere were contacted by letter, and asked to suggest a date for the reunion. Then a date and location was decided upon, and a second letter went out.

Not all of the members were able to attend, but enough were on hand to make the undertaking worthwhile. Thomas Smith, the Class president, welcomed the 50 members and guests. Charles Duffy gave the invocation, and a turkey dinner and dancing followed in the Hotel Governor Tryon ballroom.

Another reunion has already been planned for 1963, to celebrate the 10th anniversary of their graduation from New Bern High. Meanwhile, other classes will undoubtedly follow the lead of this 1953 class.

We salute the Class of 1953 for its initiative. With a school spirit like theirs, New Bern High can have the reunions it deserves, and our annual homecomings can become outstanding too.

Card Slightly Late Arriving

All of the mail at the New Bern post office got delivered rather promptly during the busy days of December.

That is, all of the mail except a postcard addressed to Delores Dudley of 408 Bern street. It was sent to her from her minister while he was attending a religious conference in California.

Of course, it takes a little time for mail to get here from California, but the postcard mailed Delores was postmarked during the month of June in 1948.

It should have arrived earlier, it seems to us, even by pony express or mule train. In fact, it apparently did, but by one of those exceedingly rare mishaps in the postal service it got lost behind a sorting case right in the New Bern post office.

A clerk discovered it, at long last, but Delores—now married—didn't complain to Washington. She knows that accidents will happen, and besides, her own father, Allen Dudley, has been working at the New Bern post office himself for 16 years.

BEST FOOT UPWARD—Putting your best foot forward is important in dancing, like everything else. But when it comes to leg exercises, Annette Lancaster gets the desired results by pointing her toes to the sky and pedaling an imaginary bicycle. Incidentally, New Bern's latest Mirror Maid has as nice a disposition as any you'll ever find.—Photo by Billy Benners.
