IN NEW BERN TODAY

Those of us at New Bern High school who are interested in photography are lucky to have Miss Sarah Greene as a member of our faculty. She has been something of a camera expert ever since her own high school days at Belhaven.

A minister, Rev. Allen Wilson, and a business man, Mr. Ernest Jefferson, provided equipment there for students, and Miss Greene didn't pass up the opportunity. Before long she was taking pictures that anyone could be proud of.

By the way, have you wondered how she got the nickname of Johnnie? That happened to be her father's name, so friends of the family started calling her that and the label stuck.

So wide are her interests that she wasn't able to tell us which subject she likes to photograph most. She has snapped many photographs of children, and of scenery, too.

Right now we have almost all of the necessary equipment at our school, except a drier, and we hope to have that soon. Three students who have displayed keen interest are Walter Baldree, Robert Brock and Tommy McKnight.

Walter has taken some pictures that will be used in this year's Bruin. He is only a sophomore, and ought to be quite skilled by the time he graduates. Learning photography, like most worthwhile undertakings, is a slow and tedious process, but the rewards in pleasure and possible profit can be worth it.

Walter, Robert and Tommy are the sort who show an interest in several fields, and are willing to accept the challenge of exploring and mastering them.

There is no reason why all of us can't follow their example. Photography is just one of the many hobbies that should appeal to us.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Congratulations on your Dec. 19 and 24, 1958 issues of the New Bern Mirror, especially the outstanding snow pictures by Billy Benners. I bought ten copies to mail out of state.

Also outstanding for Christmas time were the many religious ads and the front page for children.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Brown. Received my first copy of the New Bern Mirror, and I was deeply impressed with its down to earth sincerity, which we need desperately today. Editorials are excellent—human interest is abundant.

Therefore, accept my gratitude for a needed job well done.

Ed Blair

Thanks a million for sending me the Mirror. I always enjoy anything concerning home, especially when you write it. So much so, I still have poems you wrote in the sixth grade.

From April 1914 to July 1917 I was express agent at New Bern. I resided with my little family on Eden street in a house owned by Miss Mamie Hay. I recall that near SEA SONG—Catherine Lansche, our latest Mirror Maid, poses prettily with a shell that she hopes will bring the ocean's roar to her. where I lived, on Pollock street, lived a small boy named Joe McDaniel. I used to see him often, and I knew his father.

For quite some time I have enjoyed reading your articles in the News and Observer, and I have just wondered if you're the same small boy. Please advise about this.

The Ladies of Enoch Wadsworth Memorial Home wish to express their appreciation to Mr. J. Gaskill McDaniel, editor of The Mirror, for his kindness in sending to them a copy of his paper each week.

They find it very interesting and uplifting throughout. Many, many thanks for such wholesome reading matter, Mr. Editor.

We read with the greatest pride your account of the observance of the Anniversary of our Temple. Also the wonderful editorial about a very fine lady and the Hebrew faith.

May we take this opportunity to say thanks for your interest in the Jewish people of our community.

Kathleen and Harold Orringer.

Thanks to the goodness of God, I expect to go home next week. Since I am no longer an invalid, I am not entitled to further enjoy the privileges of one. I therefore request that you change my status to that of subscriber. Enclosed is my check in payment for a subscription to The Mirror. I can't tell you how much I appreciate your gift of The Mirror during these past months. It has been a source of much pleasure to me in itself, but even more I have appreciated the friendly regard that prompted you to send it.

The knowledge that you remembered me so generously has contributed in great measure toward making my period of hospitalization more tolerable than otherwise it would have been.

of Christ-in the USA.

He was representative of the General Commission on Army and Navy chaplains for the eighth service command from 1942 to 1946; was president of the Texas Council of Churches in 1953; is a director of the World Council of Churches, and a director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Since his boyhood was spent in a section where hunting and fishing are popular, it isn't surprising that he still enjoys them at the age of 62. "These things constitute my only recreation," he told The Mirror.

"A group of us in Fort Worth have some grand experiences hunting in different parts of the United States, and fishing around in the Southwest, and in Old Mexico."

If you ask us, Dr. Sadler has earned an occasional vacation.
