IN NEW BERN TODAY

This is the night of nights, when our New Bern High school drill team makes its debut during the half of the Elizabeth City basketball game here.

Forty girls are tremendously excited, and all out of breath from trying to get their uniforms made and fitted in time for the big occasion. They are very nervous too, but we are sure that they will perform to perfection.

They are going to do a marching drill to the strains of Stars and Stripes Forever, and then a baton routine to the tune of Melancholy Baby. Elinor Nelson is their captain, and of course their instructor is Mrs. Beverly McGee, wife of Coach Jim McGee.

The performance will last about five minutes. Dr. Spear, our High school principal, has promised to send the drill team to the North-eastern Conference Basketball Tournament in Greenville if it makes a good showing tonight.

Plans are also being made to have the group march in the parade at Wilmington's annual Azalea Festival. There may be other appearances out of town too, but these are something to really work for.

Mrs. McGee may see the day that her own three daughters are members of the drill team, but it won't happen any time soon. Patsy is 7, Connie is 9, and Susan is 2.

"Susan is our football player," says Mrs. McGee. "She is as rough as any fullback you ever saw, and I'm sure she was meant to be our boy. She looks like Jim too, and all of our friends call her Little Jim."

All of the girls who are on the drill team are very grateful to their instructor for the excellent job she has done in training them in the short time that was available. The rest of the student body will be just as grateful, and quite proud, when they see the results tonight in the New Bern High school gymnasium.

If we had our boyhood to live over again, we'd still try to raise rabbits. In fact, the way they're making money out of rabbits in Harnett county, we're inclined to tackle the venture even at this late date.

Every boy ought to have a chance to raise something, just like every boy ought to have a dog he can call his own. One of the nicest things about being a boy is a wonderful appreciation of animals. Lucky is the man who never loses this love for God's animal kingdom.

READY TO SERVE—Linda White is a tiny bundle of perpetual good humor. That's why today's Mirror Maid gets along so well with other students at New Bern High school. Even when she is on her toes, she has a tough time measuring five feet, but with her personality she doesn't have to worry about the possibility of being overlooked. Everybody knows when Linda is around.—Photo by Billy Benners.
