Things are going at a red hot pace in New Bern's Sunday school league, what with 15 teams gunning for championship honors. Success of the loop is a tribute to the adults who are lending a hand, and to the kids who are coming up with an exciting brand of baseball.

There's plenty of spirit too among the five teams comprising the Pony League. To see for yourself, head for Fort Totten or the City Recreation Center on these June nights. You'll be entertained, and the players and coaches will appreciate your interest.

Everyone in town ought to know how to swim, although it's surprising how many New Bernians can't keep afloat. Certainly, it's an injustice and downright dangerous not to see to it that your children are able to take care of themselves in deep water.

A four-weeks swimming class—sponsored by the Recreation Department—gets underway here on Monday, June 22. A second class will follow on July 20. The instruction is open to all youngsters of school age, including moppets entering the first grade next September.

A New Bern fan wants to know if it's true that the local Bears and Goldsboro once used a total of nine pitchers in a Coastal Plain League ball game. Yes, it happened on May 19, 1938. There were 33 hits in all, and the Goldbugs finally won the contest 17 to 14.

In answer to another query, it's also true that Bill Ferebee hurled two no-hitters during his professional baseball career. The first was for Selma, Ala., in the Southeastern League, and later the lanky home town athlete duplicated his feat with the Raleigh Caps in the Piedmont League.
