

Teen Topics

— IN NEW BERN TODAY —

Any New Bern adult who has hopes of rock 'n' roll losing its popularity may have a long time to wait. A teen-age survey here, with representative high school and college students as guinea pigs, indicates no decline at all in the overwhelming choice of this type of music.

According to the New Bern Public Library, there's a long waiting list there for Pat Boone's best-selling book "Twist Twelve and Twenty." It's certainly a volume that no one would find objectional for young people.

In fact, we understand that the Church of God at Goldsboro has sent copies to 15 public and school libraries in Wayne county. Parents and others often criticize our tastes—maybe with good reasons—but we think it's a credit to us that we find Pat Boone's book interesting and informative reading.

Martha Gillikin, a NBHS graduate of 1958 and rising sophomore at Woman's College in Greensboro, probably has a lot of memories passing through her head this summer. She is employed in the principal's office at New Bern high, and we're quite sure that this quite attractive young lady is recalling some of the good times she once had in this very same school.

Although instructions for teenagers in driver education has been completed at New Bern high, as far as the classroom is concerned, it is continuing outside with actual driving. The capable and patient instructors are two faculty members—Coach Sam Arbes and Mrs. Celia Willis.

Like Martha Gillikin, out at the high school, some of the other teen-agers are employed in school work during vacation. Helping Mr. Howard Barnes in tidying up various buildings in the city system are Doderick Abbott, Norman Swindell, Dalton Gray Murphy and Joseph Jackson Lewis.

MISS LUCIA —

of the Martin county Young Democrats from 1955 to 1958; and a leader in other civic activities.

As a Boy Scout leader from 1953 to 1955, he had the distinction of producing four Eagle Scouts in a single year. Since 1955 he has been a member of the Boy Scout council.

What's more, he is commanding officer of the Williamston National Guard unit, is a deacon in the First Christian church, and teaches a Sunday school class there. How he gets around to all of these things is a mystery, but he accomplishes them quietly and efficiently.

In fact, he is so adept at coordinating his many activities, and handles them so smoothly, that at first glance you get the impression that he is slow and easy going. Junie does have the temperament of an easy-going man, but in truth he is the calm core of an activity-packed whirlwind.

For one so busy with outside interests, it is hard to conceive that he manages to be a devoted father and husband. He and Lucia have a great deal in common, and the two of them are completely wrapped up in the affection they shower on their little daughter, Lucia Claire.

Now you know why "Miss Lucia"—television's most popular figure in eastern North Carolina—didn't hesitate to give up the limelight and become simply Mrs. Elbert Sidney Peel, Jr.

Sermonette

By G. A. HOWELL

"And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast. The same came therefore to Philip which was Bethesda of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus." (John 12:20, 21)

One day at the Feast of Passover in Jerusalem a group of Gentiles came to Philip and desired to see Jesus. Therefore, the things I write about today will be some of the characteristics of the One Whom they sought.

Jesus was born of poor parents in an animal shelter. He was wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger. He worked in Joseph's carpenter shop. He never wrote a book. Yet there has been many books written about Him. One writer said that he supposed that if all the things that Jesus did were written, that the world itself would not be able to hold the books that should be written.

Jesus never owned a home, held a public office, nor traveled 200 miles from His birthplace. He never did the things that people think go along with greatness.

He was anointed of the Holy Ghost and went about healing the sick and doing good. Yet in all this the religious leaders of His day took Him to trial. They demanded His death and received it. He died on a cross for you and me between two thieves. After He had died, He was buried in another's tomb. Thank God, the grave could not hold Him and now today He is in heaven at our Father's right hand. Many years have passed since Jesus walked the shores of Galilee but there has never been an army, navy, parliament, king, or president (with all their efforts combined) that affected the world like this One Solitary Person.

These are characteristics of the "actual man" whom the Gentiles sought.

Rushing around smartly is no proof of accomplishing much.
