—IN NEW BERN TODAY—

It's no secret that many New Bern High school students need financial assistance when they graduate and seek enrollment in college. The Albert Bangert loan fund is a big help to them, especially if they aren't fortunate to rate a scholarship. Get details from local school officials.

Because the idea may spread eventually to North Carolina, here is something we ran across that we think you'll find interesting. The Indiana Higher Education

Loan Plan will go into operation in that state at the start of next spring's semester.

Three business groups—Indiana State Chamber of Commerce, the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and the Indiana Bankers Association—are sponsoring the formation of this new college-student loan fund backed by private capital.

Indiana is the first state in a proposed nation-wide non-profit student-loan group known as United Student Aid Funds. A student, a resident of Indiana, who has finished his freshman year with good grades, will be able to borrow up to $1,000 a year for three years, as a bank loan without collateral or endorsement at a single interest rate not to exceed six percent.

Repayment of the loan is to start within five months of graduation and will be spread over a three-year period. Chairman of the council formed to direct the plan is Edwin B. Newill of Indianapolis, recently retired general manager of Allison Division of General Motors Corporation and a GM vice-president.

Some of North Carolina's large industrial firms may take to the idea too. If they do, it can be a godsend to Tar Heel high school graduates in the years to come. Perhaps we'll be hearing more about the United Student Aid Fund in the near future.

Well, the Christmas holidays are here. Let's have a wonderful Yuletide. Drive carefully, get your shopping done, help out with the household chores, remember someone unfortunate, and, finally, don't forget to sign your Christmas cards.

Home is the dearest spot on earth, and it should be the center, though not the boundary, of the affections. — Mary Baker Eddy.
