1. TRUE.—Each postmaster within the State of Alaska is authorized and directed to administer oaths and affirmations, to take acknowledgments and to make and execute certificates thereof, and to perform all other functions of a notary public within the State whenever a certificate is necessary to comply with any act of Congress or the Legislature of Alaska. No fee may be charged for this service during the hours of the notary's services to the Government, including the period allowed for lunch.

What's Cooking

When friends drop in for a visit, try treating them to "Pizza Pups." You'll need one-fourth cup of olive oil; one clove, minced; one garlic clove, peeled and sliced; three-fourths cup of tomato juice; one teaspoon of salt; one-half teaspoon of oregano; one fourth-teaspoon of chopped parsley; one-eighth teaspoon of pepper; four frankfurters; four frankfurter rolls, three ounces of mozzarella cheese, sliced. Heat oil in large skillet. Add garlic; cook slowly until browned. Combine the tomato juice, salt, oregano, chopped parsley and pepper. Cook rapidly, uncovered, for about fifteen minutes until thickened, stirring occasionally. Just before the sauce is done, add the franks and simmer three minutes.

When both are ready, preheat the rolls in a baking pan. Split the franks, fill with sauce and top with the sliced mozzarella cheese. Broil until the cheese melts — about one minute. This recipe makes four pizza pups.

We've been asked to furnish a recipe for peanut butter fudge, so here goes. For ingredients, round up two cups of sugar; one teaspoon of vanilla; one cup of crunch-style peanut butter; one cup of milk; and one 7-ounce jar of marshmallow cream.

Place sugar and milk in a saucepan over medium heat. Stir constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil. Cover lightly, and cook two minutes.

Uncover and continue boiling, without stirring, to soft-ball stage (240 degrees on candy thermometer.) Remove from heat. Add marshmallow cream, peanut butter and vanilla, and stir just enough to combine. Turn into buttered, 8-inch square pan. Refrigerate twenty minutes before cutting.

Making your own candy isn't as popular as it used to be, but it's fun. Teen-agers who might by chance be reading this column can stage an impromptu party on short notice simply by cooking a batch of candy in one of their own kitchens. Oldsters who are still young at heart ought to get back to the candy-making routine too.

About This Question:

"I'm as proud of my grandson as any grandfather would be, and I'd like to assure that he gets a college education. Would an 18-year Endowment Policy of about $5,000 be the best present a grandfather could give?"

For the answer to this, and all your insurance questions, consult the John R. Taylor Agency. Phone ME 7-3866.
