Coach Bill Klutz of the New Bern High school Bears expects good balance in the tough North-eastern Conference during the 1962 football season. "Everybody lost a lot of exceptional back by graduation," says Klutz, "and the team with the most desire stands an excellent chance to capture the loop crown."

Although six of Greenville's top 10 ball carriers are gone from the Phantom camp, the Bruin mentor still figures the Greenies are the ball club to beat. "After all, they're the champions," he reasons, "and you have to string along with a champion until somebody else takes over."

The Pitt county eleven will have a big line, but could use more experience in its forward wall. New Bern has weight to rely on too in this department. Bob Campbell tips the scales at 240, and Jim Lundy is proving remarkably agile in early practice as a bruising 260 pounder. Bill Aster, at 200, is one of the lads the Bears are counting on for aggressive action.

"It will take the first two ball games for us to really get an idea of our potential," Klutz reasons. The local coach is fairly well pleased at this stage at the way his outfit is progressing. The backs have shown eagerness in getting down to business, and are learning their formations a little quicker than might have been anticipated.

Some observers, counting their chickens before they hatch, are of the opinion that the Bears will show marked superiority against Morehead City in the season's opener. Similar optimism prevailed last year, but the Bruins haven't forgotten that the Coasters emerged victorious. Neither Klutz nor his youngsters will be suffering from overconfidence when this revenge battle comes up.

Washington's Pam-Pack would like nothing better than to dash New Bern's hopes in the first Conference game of the season, especially since the Pack will be playing at home. We doubt that Coach Choppy Wagner has the ball club to upset the Bears, but never sell Choppy short. Few mentors can do as much with the material at hand.

TEAMWORK IN ELECTRIC PLANNING RESULTS IN PROFITABLE FARMING

Our farm service representatives have lots of answers about electricity and its uses.

They work with farmers—making recommendations—producing plans—helping make farms as productive and profitable as possible. And their work is backed by farm research, carried on by the investor-owned electric companies and others.

Farmers are among our best customers. We supply power to more than 150,000 rural customers. Electricity helps make better farms. And better farms mean a better, healthier America. We're planning and building right now so all the additional power that will be required in the future will be on hand, when and where it is needed—on farms, in homes, in businesses and industries.
