NEW BERN, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1965

NUMBER 31

We have glad tidings for millions of Americans from coast to coast who, thanks to photographs and stories in the nation's newspapers, may envision New Bern and Craven County as a land of destitution and despair.

Craven Operation Progress, Inc., it should be proclaimed far and wide, is doing its best to see that no wolf hangs around the door of a number of people headquartered at 409 George Street, which is mighty thoughtful.

Listed below are some of the individuals who, as hired officials and staff members, won't have to worry about where the next meal is coming from. The annual salaries opposite their names indicate why.

Bob Monte, Executive Director (successor to James J. Hearn)--$14,500.00.

Wilbur F. Evans, Project Director Neighborhood Youth Corps--$9,500.00.

Royce C. Jordan, Project Director Manpower Improvement Through Community Effort--$8,500.00.

L. R. Morgan, Coordinator Adult Basic Education Recruitment Program--$8,200.00.

R. C. Noble, Director Strawberry Marketing Cooperative--$7,600.00.

Ansley D. Smith, Deputy Director Neighborhood Youth Corps--$7,500.00.

TOP SECRET—Pictured above is the actual cover attached to 12 pages listing officials and staff members employed by Craven Operation Progress, and annual salaries paid. In case you've wondered why newspapers, radio stations and television stations didn't receive copies, and pass the information along to citizens who were certainly entitled to it, take a second glance at the heading on the cover. For reasons satisfactory to themselves, the powers that be apparently left no stone unturned in seeing that the public was kept completely in the dark, despite the fact that the public individually, and New Bern and Craven County officially were expected to support the program. Cool off a little (you'll need to) and then return to full boil by reading Through The Looking Glass to the left of this self explanatory cover.
