

If you're planning to visit New York this summer with that small youngster of yours, try to find time for a shopping tour.

We agree with the Gray Line, an outfit operating air-conditioned sight seeing buses in the Big City, that the little Indian in your family will love Tepee Town just off Fifth Avenue on 42nd Street.

Mocassins, tomahawks, wampum belts, and Indian souvenirs are the standard fare. Keep this in mind for good, inexpensive presents for the other New Bern kids your small fry

The various museum gift shops—at the Museum of Natural History, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the Museum of the American Indian, to name a few, all carry inexpensive souvenirs.

Takashimaya, a branch of Japan's largest department store, has found a home in New York at Fifth Avenue and 47th Street, and any little girl over the age of seven will find it utterly beguiling.

There are lots of inexpensive things like rice-paper napkins and fans and origami kits, but it's worthwhile to take the youngsters in even if you plan to buy nothing.

The bonsai plants, splendid tea sets, Japanese statuary and garden lanterns will give them an authentic feeling of Japanese culture. As an adult, any New Bern parent will also find it a pleasant place to visit.

Young readers (from the cradle to age 14) will adore browsing through "The House of the Magic Rabbit" at 213 East 34th Street. It's a bookshop just for children, which also features story-telling hours, art classes and puppet shows in its garden and "Moppet Room."

"MUNSTER, GO HOME" (I-A)

course, where your child would enjoy shopping, but it is generally agreed by those who can speak with authority that the ones we've mentioned are your best bet.

Save this column. It will come in handy when you head for Yan-kee Land.

Akron, Ohio, the world's rubber capital, has come up with a solution to prevent vehicles from bumping over railroad crossings. They are paving the crossings with rubber pads.

Gary Butzer, 20, claimed he took things from a San Bruno, California, supermarket as a release for his creative feelings. Unimpressed police booked him for robbery.

Strangely, because as a small boy we hated him for his romantic involvement with this lovely creature, we still remember that the hero was named Boyd Holloway. He was tall and handsome, with slicked-down black hair.

Attorney John Beaman, one of our best friends, shares our fond recollections of stars of the silent screen. He likes to pop a name like Bessle Love, Irene Rich, or Charlie Chase at us, and ask for a description of the long faded movie idol.

So far we've had a pretty good batting average, in keeping with out habit of remembering things of no earthly value and forgetting things of a more recent nature that are of prime importance.

If you want to get into the game, come up with a description of Monte Blue, Percy Marmont, and Al St. John, just for a starter.
