

MIRROR MIRTH

An oculist is a man with an eye for business. The best way to keep down bills is to use a paperweight. Love is a disease like the measles, because it is worse when it comes late in life.

When nations aren't trying to make up with each other, they are trying to make off with each other...A mother takes twenty years to make a man of her boy, and another woman makes a fool of him in twenty minutes.

A gossip gets her best news from someone who promised to keep it a secret...Half the world doesn't know how many things the other half is paying installments on.

An efficiency expert is smart enough to tell you how to run your business, and too smart to start one of his own...A tactful husband is one who remembers his wife's birthday, but forgets which one it is.

Duty is a task we look forward to with distaste, perform with reluctance, and brag about ever after...As soon as a crop starts coming up in the fields, it starts going down in the market.

Women get criticized for wearing furs in summer, although they are merely following the fashion of the original owners...The only two who can live cheaply as one are a flea and a dog.

It's odd how chairs never move in the daytime, but at night tiptoe up and kick you in the sins...Most bachelors have lots of chances to get married, but they are not taking any chances.

When a woman puts candles on her birthday cake, she should be burning most of them at both ends...Children have become so expensive that only the poor can afford them.

Remorse is a sign that it wasn't quite as pleasant as you expected it to be...When the wool is pulled over a man's eyes, he is generally fleeced afterwards.

Some people commit murder, others get their satisfaction from reading obituary notices...The narrower the mind, the broader the statement...In this mechanized age, even public officials are machine made.

A diamond is a gem whose bright sparkle renders a woman stone-blind to the defects of the man offering it...June is the month of brides. The other eleven are devoted to divorces.

A lecture is a talk by which the notes of the professor become the notes of the students, without passing through the minds of either...A bachelor is the souvenir of some woman who found a better one at the last minute.

It's called cold cash because we can't keep it long enough to warm it up...Alligator is the skin that's fashionable for ladies to wear, especially lady alligators...A gadabout is usually a gab about.

Kisses bring out the beast in some men, usually the jackass...Faith is the basis of three great enterprises—love, democracy and hash...Time often changes a woman's curves to extended contours.

Dyspepsia is the remorse of a guilty stomach...So far no one has invented an intelligence test to equal matrimony...Most men would rather be the second husband of a widow than the first.

IN THE ROUND . . . One of many photographs in the 1970 Yearbook of Agriculture, "Contours of Change," shows rows of laying cages in-the-round. Manufactured by a New Mexico company, each round house holds 34,000 layers.

Every dog has his day, but the nights are reserved for the cats...Children have grown so expensive that only the poor can afford them...When a woman puts candles on her birthday cake, she should be burning most of them at both ends.

In a ladies sewing circle, more husbands are darned than socks.

Every dog has his day, but the nights are reserved for the cats. An organ recital is a patient's complaint to his doctor.

After a few months of work, Eskimos call it a day.
