Skin Is Tattle Tale Sign for Age Conscious

The woman who wants to keep her age a secret should not neglect her skin.

For skin is a tattle-tale sign where age is concerned, observes Harriet Tutterow, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University.

Careless cleansing and lack of protection will make skin look coarse and dry, the specialist adds. But lubricants and moisture creams will help skin keep youthful looking.

Make-up becomes extremely important as one grows older, the specialist points out. Its use should be subtle. Make-up base and powder should veil imperfections; not cover them up as though you were trying to hide something.

Use rouge and eye make-up so they speak softly, Miss Tutterow advises. Lipstick color and rouge will depend on your skin coloring. Usually the rosy or slightly bluish reds are most becoming.

Most large cosmetic departments have trained personnell to help women with their selections. Practice at home with your new make-up and examine the results with a mirror in bright sunlight and with your glasses on. Remove any trace of excess make-up.

The older a woman is, the more she needs make-up and the less of it she should wear.
