

FORT BARNWELL HIGHLIGHTS

The news around town is hard to find unless one has a good deal of time to check on possible prospects.

One neighbor was speaking to another on the telephone Sunday afternoon and after some discussion of how she had enjoyed the day, she explained that she had to put the cats out. Her friend asked, "Why?" Then the neighbor stated that the cats had a terrible habit of turning on the lights after she retired for bed.

Oh, yes! The cats had discovered that by pulling the string that was attached to the lights, the lights would come on. The cats did not know that they were annoying their master at night. They had to find a different sleeping place.

The Quarterly Meeting of St. Edwards F. W. B. Church was observed Sunday, January 31. The public was invited to attend. Elder William Waters is the pastor.
