New Bern Jaycees Attend State Convention In Asheville

Seven New Bern Jaycees and their wives attended the Annual State Convention in Asheville, May 14, 15 and 16th.

Friday's Activities

Several of the New Bern Delegation attended the World's Fair Friday. Friday night all attended the "State Convention Awards Banquet" held in the Civic Center. The New Bern Jaycees received several awards for their hard work over the past year.

Project awards won were:

1st place "Community Fund Raiser" for The Cystic Fibrosis Telethon.

2nd place, "Personal Growth" for Personal Dynamics Program.

2nd place, "Public Relations" for The DSA Banquet.

2nd place, "Wives' Recognition" for The Wives' Recognition Banquet.

3rd place, "Youth Assistance" for The Children's Christmas Parties.

Bill Faulkner was recognized as one of the 10 finalists in the Spark Plug Competition (an activation program for members with more than 1 year in Jaycees).

Sonny Dolzer was recognized as one of the Outstanding State Directors of the North Carolina Jaycees.

And Past President, Lee Hayes, was recognized as one of the Outstanding Local Presidents of the North Carolina Jaycees.

Saturday

Saturday morning the New Bern Jaycees attended the North Carolina Jaycee's Board Meeting and Elections. Jim Cole, a contractor from Sanford, was elected President of the North Carolina Jaycees.

Connie Price of Fremont, Billy Jones of Garner, Jim Godfrey of High Point, and Frankie Murray of Muddy Creek were elected as Vice Presidents of the N.C. Jaycees.

Saturday afternoon Bill Faulkner attended an incoming Local President Workshop.

At the Saturday night banquet, the New Bern Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes were recognized for their help in raising $67,400 of the $133,000 raised by the N.C. Jaycees for Cystic Fibrosis. This money, plus money raised from 18 other chapters added up to almost $75,000 raised by the Cystic Fibrosis Telethon conducted by the New Bern Jaycees, Jaycee-ettes and the WCTI TV Station.

Cystic Fibrosis poster child, Crystal Hollowell, daughter of Tuffy and Fran Hollowell (a New Bern Jaycee & Jaycee-ett couple, thanked and told the Jaycees how much she loved them for raising money to help find a cure for her disease. The audience gave a teary-eyed standing ovation as a welcome.

After the banquet, everyone relaxed to the music of "North Tower" of Raleigh.

Arts Festival Scheduled for Saturday

Welcome Home Alumni !!

Farm Life Alumni Banquet

The 62nd Farm Life Alumni were welcomed by Richard Bowers, principal, Friday night at Farm Life Elementary cafeteria. He told the group of the many changes that are taking place on the site. He stated that next year he would take them on a tour of the new Farm Life School.

Senator Joe Thomas gave a report from the committee responsible for placing a gift from the Alumni Association in the new facility. The committee proposed a show case which would contain memento of the old Farm Life School Alumni. The group accepted the proposal.

For evening entertainment, Brenda Smith introduced "The Country Outlaws" of Vanceboro, who gave the group a sample of the music they would hear when they visited the dance after the banquet. Etheleene Butler gave some enlightening remarks about the class of 1932. This class was being honored as the 50th Anniversary class. There were five of the members present.

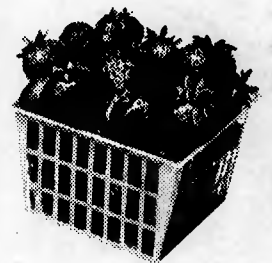

The total attendance including guests numbered approximately 150. This was a small turnout so make plans to be on hand next year second Friday in May.

A delicious dinner of barbecue chicken, potato salad, slaw, cake and tea was served by the Vanceboro Methodist Church.
