

PIG ON WHEELS—John F. Lewis of Clarks took a 280 gallon oil drum and split in it half, welded frames around it, built racks to go in it, put fenders, wheels, and a tow on it and now it's a huge vehicular oven that's being used by someone most every weekend. The oven is fueled by charcoal or oak wood and last Sunday John used it himself for a pig barbecue to honor the birthday of his mother, Mae, and brother H. H. Lewis. Mother and brother were both born on July 11th exactly 20 years apart. She is 72 and he is 52 and John started cooking the 78 pound pig Saturday night at 10 p. m., staying up all night with it and holding the temperature at a steady 200 degrees.

Water Safety

On Friday, July 16 at 4:00 p.m. there will be a special on water safety at the Cove City Public Library. Two men from the Coast Guard will be at the library to give children information on water safety. At the program the children will get to view themselves on close circuit television. In addition, they will be shown different types of life preservers and life jackets. Coloring books will be given out at the Cove City Public Library at the end of the program. All children between the ages of preschool through sixth grade are invited to attend.

In Memory

Norma A. Willis
Mrs. Norma A. Willis, 66, died Tuesday, July 6, 1982. The funeral was held in the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, by Rev. Robert Porter, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of Raleigh. Burial was in Celestial Memorial Gardens.

Surviving are her husband, Dr. Carroll V. Willis; two sons, Carroll V. Willis, Jr., of Raleigh, and Bobby L. Willis of Wilmington; two sisters, Miss Virginia Askew and Mrs. Emma Jones, both of Snow Hill; and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Willis grew up in the Snow Hill community of Greene County. She attended Mars Hill College and East Carolina Teachers College. She had been a resident of Vanceboro since 1939 and was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Vanceboro.

Mrs. R. L. Cannon, Jr. makes a stop at a replica of an early doctor's office at the Walnut Grove Plantation in South Carolina. This stop was a part of the tour with the Southeastern Jurisdiction Historical Society of historical sites in South Carolina.

Attended Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cannon, Jr., attended the Southeastern Jurisdiction Historical Society of The United Methodist Church Meeting at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C., July 7-10.

The theme of the meeting was "South Carolina, The Cradle of Black Methodism". Included in the busy schedule were lectures, workshops, inspirational services, and a full day's tour of historic sites in the area. The group visited Walnut Grove Plantation, Carl Sandburg's Home, John Wesley United Methodist Church in Greenville, and Bethel United Methodist Church in Simpsonville.

Among the leaders who inspired the group were: Dr. Robert Borom, "An Evening with Francis Asbury", Dr. John Curry, "No Balconies In Heaven", and Dr. Lewis P. Jones of the Wofford faculty, "Early South Carolina Religious History".

Oak Grove Ladies Auxiliary

By Barbara Forrest

The Oak Grove FWB Ladies Auxiliary met, Tuesday night, July 6, at Oak Grove's Fellowship Hall with Mrs. Barbara Forrest serving as hostess. Mrs. Pam Sasser presented the program for the meeting and following afterwards was the business meeting.

The business meeting was opened with the minutes being read and the roll call by Mrs. Joyce Woolard. President Mildred Cox called for committee reports.

The Benevolence

Committee reported serving lunch at the Fellowship Hall for a recent bereaved family. Benevolence Chairman Shirley Adams informed the auxiliary that the church's serving menu was going to be revised due to the concern of several necessary changes.

Home Missions Chairman Geneva Waters reported giving Mrs. Melvin Cox a gift of love from the Auxiliary during her recent illness. Cards were signed by members for the sick in the neighborhood.
