

Air Virginia Adds Flight

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA—Air Virginia announced recently that it drew four operating "slots" at New York's LaGuardia Airport during a lottery held last week. The slots, which are required for operations at LaGuardia, will allow Air Virginia to commence scheduled service with two round-trips daily into the New York facility as soon as October 1 of this year.

A final decision as to specific routes and Air Virginia cities to be served to and from LaGuardia has not been reached. Company officials expect to finalize a decision on a LaGuardia schedule within a few weeks. Air Virginia currently serves the New York area through Newark International Airport with nine flights every business day.

In making the announcement, Curtis M. Coward, Chairman of the Board and CEO, commented that "We are thrilled about the opportunity to provide our service area with new, peak-period round-trip service to this key facility. This marks another important

Governor Hopeful, Jim Martin

Congressman Jim Martin

Congressman Jim Martin, republican governor candidate, was in Greenville for the opening of the Greenville market. This newspaper was able to interview him and get his views on the tobacco program, education, drug abuse, and his progress in Eastern North Carolina.

He stated that he will have to cultivate Eastern North Carolina and he is willing to spend the time necessary to do it. When asked what he is offering the agriculture community of Eastern North Carolina, he stated he is offering them a good past record of voting for agriculture legislature. He mentioned the Martin Amendment which cut off the raising of cigarette tax.

He offers to try to get more food processing plants into the state which would mean more opportunity for farmers to get their products to a local buyer and would increase jobs. He stated every governor has been an education governor since Gov. Aycock and "I am no different." He started his career as a teacher and knows some of the problems facing education. He is an advocate of merit pay for teachers and stated 70 percent of the public wants some type of teacher evaluation. He has outlined a merit system to the North Carolina Education Association and feels it will be adequate for all teachers, not just the top 10 percent. AS for the drug problem, he plans to use D.O.P.E., which means Drug Observation Prevention Education. He proposes use of helicopters to observe movement of drugs into our state and crack down on the big movement of illegal drugs into the streets of our cities and clean it out of schools, making our citizens aware by giving drug education from kindergarten through high school.
