Party & Awards' Day

The Summer Reading Game Party and Awards' Day was held at the Vanceboro-Craven County Public Library last Wednesday. Regional Children's librarian, Mary Delamar, presented prizes to the children who read and reported on the most books during July in grades kindergarten through sixth.

The winners of the Summer Reading Game were as follows: Kindergarten - Kelly Moore (20 books); Grade 1 - Brandy Simpkins (15 books); Grade 2 - Karen Woolard (44 books); Grade 3 - Angela Bryant (115 books); Grade 4 - Beth Johnson (60 books); Grade 6 - Dolores Small (192 books).

Certificates were presented to the youngsters who read 10 or more books during July. In addition to the winners of the game they were as follows:

Brian Spear, Emma Thomas, Robert Beaman, Sandy Wright, Susan Malan, Brenda Koehler, Jennifer Lochlair, Kristen Moore, Bobby Johnson, Casey Caldwell, Kristy Malan.

After the certificates and prizes were given out refreshments were served outside of the library. They consisted of cupcakes, potato chips, and lemonade.

All of the boys and girls who entered the reading game worked very hard turning in book reports and reading. The Vanceboro-Craven County Library Staff congratulates them!

England and the continent where they created in the 16th century a sensation much as photographs of moon landings have caused in the 20th century."

A book containing all of the Carolina drawings of John White has been published. The volume is edited by Paul Hulton, retired keeper of the Department of Prints and Drawings in the British Museum.

Jan Mann and her husband, owners of the Wildflower Pottery in Godwin, NC were commissioned by the 400th Anniversary Committee to reproduce Indian eating and drinking vessels of the time. The collection includes jugs, bowls and pancheons (plates). The pottery is on loan from the UNC Sea Grant.

In addition, a few Indian artifacts found in Pamlico County will be on display courtesy of Thelma Bennett of Arapahoe and Nancy and Freda Winfree and David and Georgia Peacock of Bayboro.

The New Bernian Collection and Navajo baskets will also be shown on loan from Mr. and Mrs. William Kellum.

Social Security

whom the report is made, the change or changes being reported, the date the change took place and the claim number under which the Social Security benefits are being paid.

Some changes must be reported by all getting Social Security benefits. These include any change of mailing address, earnings of more than the annual exempt amount, travel or employment outside of the United States, and imprisonment for committing a felony.

Depending on their circumstances, other beneficiaries must report a marriage, divorce, or annulment; the adoption of a child or the fact that a child has left the care of a parent; any change in school attendance for a student 18-19; or the death of a person who is receiving benefits.

People needing help or who want more information about reporting a change should contact any Social Security office.
