What Would You Give?

by Reba Mitchell

Along the pathway of life many times we come to situations that make us look back and wish we could just call back one yesterday. When those times of regret come what would we give if we could only call back one yesterday, with the opportunity yesterday held.

Many times we have heard, and the Bible teaches, Honor thy father and mother. Ex. 20:12

Many people think when they are grown they no longer have to obey parents. But, we should still be respectful to them and honor them. We may not always agree with them, but we don't have to talk back to them, get angry and so on, letting our life reflect the works of the enemy. Remember no sin can enter Heaven. We can listen to them with respect and show our love. If we can't do this we need to seek the face of God with a repenting heart.

If you lose Father or Mother what would you give for one yesterday so you could tell them one more time that you do love them.
