

See what response you can get from the prom-trotting day students when you mention such things as the K. A.-Kappa Sig, Military Ball, and the Sigma Nu dance. It seems that Kay Kyser made a big impression on all our girls at May Frolics, the way they've been talking about it since. And in the distance we see the Sig. Ep. Ball and finals at 'most any college.

Ask Tokie Thiem and Ellen Ross about the Sigma Nu Card from Carolina. And, speaking of Sigma Nu's, Willa Drew has discovered a new one and seems to be forging right ahead. Then ask Sarah O. about Honey Bee from the Snake Ranch across the street. Still on the subject of the "Snakes," how about Mary Galt Williamson's going "stag" to the party Saturday night? She can't deny it 'cause we saw her. And then there's the girl whose mother was shocked to find that what she had thought was a spot on daughter's sweater turned out to be a Sig. Ep. recognition pin. Who is this girl who says she won't accept a corsage for the Junior-Senior unless she can have five orchids?

For some peculiar reason Rebe Norman has taken a great liking to Yankees.

Enough of this idle gossip. Now for some serious thinking: Let's keep the day students' room clean, and especially over the week-end. Think how you would hate to date in a room that is cluttered with books and coats belonging to 60 other people. (Never let it be said that a day student hated to date anywhere. But it sounds good, anyway.) Here's something to think about and do something about.

As a final word and food for thought:
If a cat catches a rat, why is a man?

OUR BELLES

VIRGINIA ALLISON

Home—Schenectady, N. Y.
Hair—Dark Brown.
Eyes—Green.
Height—5 ft. 5 in.
Weight—116 lbs.
Favorite Sports—Skiing and Riding.
Favorite Song—"Got a Date With An Angel."
Favorite Saying—"That's the Nuts."
Weaknesses—Allan and Dudley.
Hobby—Knitting.

Jinny is the girl who has knitted some forty sweaters, and who can't seem to make up her mind between V. M. I. and Colgate. Here at Saint Mary's she has definitely made her mark, having been a member of the Honor Council and of the Publications Staff. Next year she will return as a Senior, and as one of the campus leaders. She has recently been elected Editor of the Bulletin, and to the position of Marshal for the 1938-39 session. Jinny is well liked among the girls—and no wonder! For she always has a pleasant word and a smile.

ERWIN GANT

Name—Corinna Erwin Gant.
Home—Burlington, North Carolina.
Height—5 ft. 2 in.
Weight—She's not saying.
Hair—It was wet at the interview.
Eyes—Gray (blue).
Complexion—Inferiority.
Favorite sport—Wrestling.
Favorite snack—Food.

Ambition—To jump into a net from a high trapeze, and to get married.

Erwin, a Sophomore, has definitely made a place for herself in our world at Saint Mary's. She is the Deanna Durbin of the step singing, an active, ambitious member of the Circle; the life of the E. A. P.'s; an energetic Sigma and a dyed-in-the-wool Lord Chancellor who rattled off the English language at an amazing rate. (May you never have another nightmare, Erwin—not even a little pony.) Anything Erwin puts her enthusiastic petit pied in is usually a success.

ALUMNÆ NEWS

Eleanor Foreman, '36, was here April 15.

Jamie Merritt (G. C.) stopped by Saint Mary's on her way home for spring holidays, April 15.

Margaret Bellamy (Fairmont), '37, visited Saint Mary's on April 22.

Betty Scott (Salem), '37, is one of the attendants in the May Court at Salem.

Alice James (King-Smith) and Margaret White (Arlington Hall) spent Monday night with Lossie Taylor.

On Friday, February 22, at 3:00 o'clock, the Alumnae Council met in the faculty parlor of the school. Those present were, Mrs. Alex Cooper, Mrs. Paul Davis, Mrs. J. V. Highman, Mrs. W. A. Withers, Mrs. Frank Graham, and Kate Spruill.

It was announced that arrangements had been made whereby the dining room could be obtained for the alumnae luncheon, and it was therefore decided that the luncheon, usually held in the grove, should be held in the dining room this year.

It was decided that a charge of fifty cents be made to all alumnae attending the luncheon. The secretary was asked to see about class cards so that members of classes could sit together. Names of special people were given the secretary in order that they might be invited to attend the luncheon. It was also asked that various committees be asked to serve. Names were suggested for a committee for placing flowers and for a committee for inviting Raleigh alumnae.

The matter of obtaining a minister for the last Sunday service was brought before the Council.

It was also decided that an additional center showing the old school be drawn up, so that another Wedgwood plate would be ready for the centennial.

The secretary was requested to see that the Raleigh alumnae were invited to May Day, which is held on the 14th of May.
