FIRST LITERARY SOCIETY CONTEST COMPLETED

Sigma Lambda's Win First Place; E. A. P.'s Win Both Second Places

The Sigma Lambda and E. A. P. Literary Societies held a joint meeting on January 31, celebrating the termination of the poetry section of the societies' competition. Ida Mary Turner's "The Christmas Tree" won first place for the Sigma Lambda's, while "On a Train" by Beppy Hunter, and "A Skyrocket" by Gertrude Carter, both E. A. P. contributions, tied for second place. These two poems set the E. A. P.'s ahead of the Sigma Lambda's in the race for the silver cup, which will be awarded to the group having the highest number of points at a Society banquet at the end of the year.

LENTEN SERVICES PLANNED

First Two Speakers Announced

The Lenten Services for this year will begin on Ash Wednesday, February 22, when there will be held a communion service at 6:50 in the morning, the regular Chapel service at 8:40, and evening Chapel service at 5:45 p.m. Every Wednesday evening at 5:45 p.m. during the Lenten Season, there will be visiting ministers at the Chapel service, the first of whom will be the Reverend Craighill Brown of Southern Pines, N. C. On the following Wednesday, the guest speaker will be the Reverend Albert R. Stuart, Rector of Saint Michael's Church, Charleston, S. C. Other speakers will be announced later. On Friday evenings during Lent voluntary services with no address will be held after supper.

FACULTY ENTERTAINED

Gym Instructors Give "Advertisement" Party

Miss Rebecca Harvey and Miss Jane Goss were joint hostesses on Friday night, February 3, at a faculty party, to which each guest wore a costume representing a popular advertisement. The best costume of the party was Mrs. Kloman's Aunt Jemina. Honorable mentions were given to Miss Harris as the Dutch Cleanser girl, Miss Davis as Bermuda, Mr. Kloman as Father John's Cough Syrup, and Mr. Jones as the Fuller Brush man. Other costumes include several sets of Four Roses, Miss Weise as Morton's Salt, Miss Horn as henna rinse, Miss Harvey as Heinz's fifty-seven varieties, and Miss Goss as Ivory Soap. The guests were entertained with games, for which Mr. Kloman received the prize. The gym was attractively decorated with advertisements.

MUSIC NOTES

The organ recital, presented by William H. Jones on Sunday, January 29, was the third of a series of programs given by faculty members of the Music Department. It was very beautiful and most impressive, a combination brought about by the blending of the music with the atmosphere of the Chapel. Miss Wilburta Horn assisted with a solo, Haydn's "With Verdure Clad."

The first half of Mr. Jones' program consisted of a Sonata in D Minor by Rheinberger, and two selections from Bach, Chorale Prelude: "In Thee is Gladness" and Saint Ann's Fugue. After a short intermission during which he suggested we discuss the program "pro and con," Mr. Jones played compositions of Vierne, Cesar Franck, Saint-Saens, and one of his own. Probably this last, entitled "Scherzo," was enjoyed more than the rest because of the school's particular interest in its composer. Mr. Jones wrote this piece to contribute to a "concert of original compositions by Virginia organists given in Richmond in 1914."

Miss Horn's vocal students appeared in a studio recital on Thursday afternoon, February 9. The students taking part included those who had sung in previous recitals and also those who were appearing for the first time.

A student recital was presented by Miss Haig's music pupils last Sunday night at seven-thirty o'clock. Those who took part in the program were Annie Webb Cheshire, Fiquet Pate, Henrietta Hampton, Virginia Lee Kirby, Laura Butcher, Mary Gault, Peggy Castleman, Ruth Cameron, Winifred Vass, Joanne Lilly, Cordelia Jones, Anne Seely, Miss Martha Dabney Jones, and Anne Collier.

TOWN GIRLS' GAB

Mary Nash, Mary Watson Prince, and Ann Seeley were among the Day Students on the academic Honor Roll, and Page Eatman was the only one—including resident girls—to make the Honor Roll in the Business Department. Then there were several local gals who made honorable mention.

Mary Watson Prince is going up to Bryn Mawr next month to visit. She's going to enter the college next fall and she's going up to take a look at the place. If you don't think that "Wat" is excited, you just ask her. Her room has already been reserved 'n' everything.
