

that end, we have tried to teach you to listen to music, to look at a picture, and hear and see what soothes or exhilarates your spirit as occasion requires. Your study of history has been designed to give you an appreciation of what your ancestors, immediate and remote, have done to make your life what it is; to foster the feeling that you are "the heir of all the ages"; to help you to realize your responsibility to your own generation and to the generations that will come after you.

Every day, in formal or informal fashion, the teachings of the Christian religion have been called to your attention. Your spiritual nature must necessarily have been nurtured by this daily contact with the magnificent liturgy of the Episcopal Church, your moral fibre strengthened by your study of the Bible. Above all you must have learned that religion is not a "Sunday Fashion," but an integral part of your life, hour by hour and day by day.

All these things and many more we would have taught you. Wherein we have fallen short, we crave your forgiveness. Not intentionally have we offered you a stone when you asked for bread. Time will tell how you have profited by your years at Saint Mary's.

You go forth to face a war-torn world where life is difficult for young and old alike. Within yourselves you must find your stay in times of stress. May your life reveal that at Saint Mary's you have cultivated those qualities of mind and heart and soul which will enable you to develop what a great educator, Dr. H. A. L. Fisher, calls the principle of "humanity, toleration and good sense."

Iamque Vale.

M. MORRISON.

Our Belles

PHYLLIS GATLING

Home—Windsor, N. C.
Ambition—to win the Battle.
Pastime—dancing—any kind.
Favorite song—"Anchors Aweigh."
Favorite food—onion sandwiches.
Hobbies—bracelets and collecting records for Charlotte.
Most-used expression—"Don't be gross!"
Pet dislike—that "left-over feeling" from vacations.
Spends spare time—writing letters.

Phyllis was selected for a marshal because she looks well-groomed not only on Sundays, but even before breakfast! She has a certain something that's hard to define. Is it that air of sophistication, of knowing what to do, and when and how? Or is it her attractive, witty personality? At any rate, she has a gift of gab—either in a bull session with us or on a dance floor. But that's just one of the things that makes Phyllis an outstanding girl: its literary societies, honor rolls, and week-ending add up to versatility.

ELSIE EDMUNDS BROOCKS

Home—Durham, N. C.
Most outstanding feature—blonde pageboy.

Favorite food—steak and mushrooms.

Spends spare time—worrying about what she should be doing instead of wasting spare time.

Favorite color—just plain red.

Worst fault—"Eating so much—or rather that's the one that shows the most!"

Greatest achievement—hair never comes down in the rain.

Favorite article of clothing—"My moccasins."

Odd dislikes—corsages and perfumes.

Elsie was another good marshal because she has so much poise and presence of mind. She would be the ideal model: a good figure and an unusual type of beauty, she looks the part to perfection, with a dignified, regal air. But Elsie's charm lies mainly in her fun-loving and mischievous nature. Though she spends a great deal of her time at Duke or Davidson, we know Elsie well enough to be proud of her as a real Saint Mary's Belle.

ALUMNÆ NEWS

Miss Tucker attended a meeting of the Chapel Hill Chapter of the Saint Mary's Alumnae on Friday, May 3. The members met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence London (Dewey Mitchell, '29), who is president of the Chapter. Those present were: Mrs. Collier Cobb, Mrs. Frank P. Graham, Mrs. G. K. G. Henry, Miss Elsie Lawrence, Mrs. George W. Lay, Mrs. R. W. Linkes, Mrs. Edward T. Browne, Miss Mary Manning, Sallie Foard McNider, Mrs. W. D. Toy, Mrs. F. P. Venable, Mrs. Frank Ross. Officers elected for the coming year are: Elsie Lawrence, President; Sallie Foard McNider, Secretary-Treasurer. After the business meeting, Miss Tucker made a short talk, telling something of what Saint Mary's is doing today, and something of the plans for the Centennial celebration. Mrs. London then served tea.

The Raleigh Chapter of Saint Mary's Alumnae met in the school parlor on Saturday, May 4. Mrs. Gordon Thomas, the president, presided. Mrs. Cruikshank gave a most interesting talk. She told something of what the school is accomplishing for its students today, and something of the plans for the Centennial celebration. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. John Hall Manning, President; Mrs. A. S. Pendleton, Vice President; Miss Ruth Long, Secretary; Mrs. E. P. Hough, Treasurer. About thirty-five members were present.

There were a number of old Saint Mary's girls to return for the week-end of May Day. Among those present were Teeny Montgomery, Peggy Hopkins, Hazel Williams, Flossie Withers, Frances Bailes, Shorty Perry, Hallie Townes, Mary Gault, Ernie Rich, Brooke Allan, Kate Spruill, Sue Newell, Elizabeth Haislip, Sophie Wilson, Mary Louise Riddick, Sally Wright, Jo Pope, Sara Sawyer, Nancy Lynch, Jane Le Grand. Miss Lizzie Lee came over for the May Day and stayed for dinner at school.

Many alumnae from out of town came to Raleigh for the May Day. Among those present were Mrs. Alex Cooper, of Henderson, who is President of the Saint Mary's Alumnae Association. Others present were Mrs. Frank Graham and Mrs. Collier Cobb, of Chapel Hill. Mrs. F. S. Spruill, of Rocky Mount; Mrs. Charles P. Wales, of Edenton; Mrs. Thomas M. Wooten, of Fayetteville.

Excerpt of letter from University of Rochester—Eastman School of Music to Miss Horn:

"Concerning Frances Fish: Frances is making a record in the upper half of the college. In voice she is making a grade of B and in Theory a C grade. She sings every week in the Chapel Choir and is also a member of the French Club. Socially, also, Frances Fish has adjusted very well, having friends both in the School of Music and Arts College. We are delighted to have her as a student in Rochester."

Louise Taylor has been awarded a scholarship at Sweet Briar for next year. She is a student there now and won the scholarship because of her excellent work.

Saint Sallies

May Day really brought scores of visitors to our campus. A great number of the Alumnae were also here to provide the week-end with plenty of spirit and fun! The complete May Day was heartily enjoyed by everyone. Congratulations to Miss Goss for a splendid performance and to all who took part in it. . . . Going to Chapel Hill this week-end will be Betty Feuchtenberger, Mildred Cleveland, and Polly Lindsay. . . . Seen at the Sir Walter eating dinner with their families last Saturday were Margaret Swindell, Jinnette Hood, Elizabeth Clark, Betty Bassett and Laura Butcher. . . . Bertha Cochran, Carolyn Stenhouse and Mallie Ramsay are three among many who are planning House Parties after school is out. Martha Blythe will be at Citadel Finals; Margaret Little Blount and Sarah Bell at Carolina! . . . We wonder what exactly happened to Mary Doyle White and Floyd at May Frolics? Ask her why they both started blushing! . . . Everyone was in ecstasies over Marian Anderson. Toscanini must have been correct when he said that one hears a voice like hers only once in a lifetime. . . . Alice Yount's family presented her with a new convertible Buick. The only trouble is that she hasn't learned how to drive yet. That's one thing she can look forward to this summer! . . . Among the day students seen at the Junior-Senior at State last week were Betty Smith, Sue Joyner, Katherine Kirby and Dixie French. . . . Kay Castles said she felt just like a bride in her white net dress. We hope that isn't an indication of a "coming event." . . . All we hear these days from Miss Jones English classes are the two words: Lincoln Steffens. It surely will be a relief to everyone in school when they finish it! . . . Just think—two more weeks of school from this coming Tuesday. Only one more week of actual classes and the fun begins—studying for exams! Three cheers to those who have already started studying for them! . . . June Week at Annapolis will entice Phyllis Gatling, Edla Walker, Sara Nair and Kitty Sigmon. . . . Have a good time at the Girl-Break tomorrow night.

At the Theatres

AMBASSADOR

May 10-11: My Favorite Wife.
May 12-14: Too Many Husbands.
May 15-18: My Son, My Son.
May 19-21: Forty Little Mothers.
May 22-25: Typhoon.

STATE

May 10-11: Greenhill.
May 12-14: Farmer's Daughter.
May 15-16: Tobacco Land—Stage Show.
May 17-18: Three Cheers For Irish.
May 19-20: Of Mice and Men.
May 21: Curtain Call—Stage Show.
May 22-23: Slightly Honorable.
May 24-25: Vica Cisco Kid.

WAKE

May 10: Tower of London.
May 11: Day the Bookies Wept.
May 12-14: Hunchback of Notre Dame.
May 15: Honeymoon In Bali.
May 16: Great Waltz.
May 17: Thunder Afloat.
May 18: Call a Messenger.
May 19-21: Everything Happens At Night.
May 22-23: Dancing Coed.
May 24: Two Bright Boys.

PALACE

May 10-11: Fugitive at Large.
May 12-14: Primrose Path.
May 15-16: Too Many Husbands.
May 16-18: Light of Western Stars.
May 19-21: My Son, My Son.
May 22-23: Forty Little Mothers.

CAPITOL

May 10-11: Ghost Valley Raiders.
May 12-14: Northwest Passage.
May 15-16: Women Without Names.
May 17-18: Spoilers of the Range.
May 19: Renegade Trail.
May 20-21: Gulliver's Travels.
May 22: Fast and Furious.
May 23: Elizabeth and Essex.