Adkins, O'Herron, Hurt Lead Classes; Remaining Honor Council Members Chosen

Kirby Elected President Day
Students

Members of the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes chose their student leaders in the most important elections of the fall, held this week at Saint Mary's. The Junior class unanimously elected Elizabeth Adkins, of Richmond, Virginia, as President. Nancy O'Herron, of Charlotte, N. C., will head the Sophomore class, and Jane Hurt, Scottsboro, Alabama, will serve as Freshman President.

In a meeting earlier in the week Katherine Fleming, of Wilson, N. C., was elected Vice-President of the Senior class and Janice Fitzgerald, of Smithfield, N. C., Secretary-Treasurer.

Katherine Kirby will lead the Day Students in the coming year. She has announced as her main objective the development of more school spirit among the Day Students.

Adkins, O'Herron, and Hurt have been at Saint Mary's for two years and have constantly taken part in school activities. With past experience and proven ability these Presidents should successfully guide their classes.

Fitzgerald and Fleming, Senior officers, have both served as Hall Presidents. Fitzgerald is a certificate student in piano. Both girls are outstanding in scholarship.

Lamb and Hood Senior Representatives

Newly elected Honor Council members to represent the Junior class are Olivia Ann Smith, of Rowland, N. C., and Betty Willcox, of Norfolk, Va. Mary Love, of Burlington, N. C., will be the only underclassman representative. Gale Lamb, of Pasadena, Calif., and Helen Ford, of Martinsville, Va., will serve as Senior Honor Council members for the coming year.

Smith and Willcox, both newcomers to Saint Mary's, have readily proved their popularity among the students and have already made a place for themselves in the life of the school. Betty Willcox in Norfolk had an outstanding reputation as President of her High School student body. Both girls have had past experience in student government work and should prove capable representatives for their classes.

Gale Lamb, Helen Ford, and Mary Love are all second-year students at Saint Mary's, and were outstanding in campus activities last year.

As members of the Honor Council, these girls have undertaken highly responsible positions, for the Honor Council representatives have general supervision of the workings of the Student Government Association.

THE "PINKIES" MAKE THEIR BOW

The music faculty will give you one if you so much as play chopsticks, but in order really to deserve it you must not only play chopsticks but you must also be able to add, divide, figure dates, and sign your name. So you see, to possess a practice slip is quite an achievement. To hand one in adequately and honestly filled out is a milestone in your career, a victory over the temptations of "little-storing" when you should be counting "ta-dum" in the music building, a triumph over the fiendish little voice that begs you to count forty-five minutes as a hour.

Indeed, a practice slip is a character-builder as well as a nuisance. And if you don't think it has a personality all its own, watch the ecstatic gleam in the haggard eye of a "certificate" student as she tenderly adds up seven hundred and twenty-five minutes and discovers that it totals twelve hours and five minutes. With a defiant stride she dashes to the music building, smiling warmly on all her fellow musicians, and giving a "so there, too!" shake of her head, she deposits "Pinkie" in Mr.

Broughton's gleaming brass slot, marked, of all things, "mail."

And Mr. Broughton, on the other side of the door, sits watching the little pink slips fall as leaves in an autumn wind. Will he have time on his hands!?!?

But back to Cecilia Certificate Student. The moral support of that extra five minutes carries her home on winged feet. But oh, the strangeness of her room! Something is missing. The rugs are straight, the beds in place; her Eleven British Writers is still pressing the chrysanthemum she got at the game. With a feeling of strangeness she turns to the mirror—that's the trouble. The mirror has lost its artistic appearance. Dear "Pinkie" has gone to Mr. Broughton, and the mirror is cold and undecorated. She must needs reconcile herself to the lonely company of her roommate until next music lesson when she will acquire "Pinkie, Jr."

In one short week the practice slip has become a Saint Mary's institution.

Raleigh Music Series Include Pons, Ballet Russe Cleveland Symphony

Music-Lovers of State to Hear
Fine Music

Through the efforts of the Raleigh Civic Music Association and the Raleigh Woman's Club, two concert series will present the finest group of artists ever to appear in the South.

The Civic Music Association Concerts, which will be attended by the entire student body of Saint Mary's, feature as the outstanding event of the year the appearance of Lily Pons, diminutive coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan. The Cleveland Symphony Orchestra under the able direction of Artur Rodzinski will be presented in a varied program of symphonic selections.

Other artists of this series will be: Artur Rubenstein, one of the world's greatest pianists, and Jan Kiepura. The concluding presentation will be the spectacular new program of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

The concerts to be presented under the auspices of the Raleigh Woman's Club feature an equally varied group of artists, including Alexander Kipnis, renowned Metropolitan Opera Company basso, and Hilda Regianni, supported by an all-star cast, in "The Barber of Seville," and Allan Jones. Rosalyn Tureck, brilliant young American pianist, will appear on the same program with the Stradivarius Quartette. The Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of José Iturbi, will be the final program of this series.

Margaret Kitchin Is New President of Y. P. S. L.

The Y. P. S. L. Council unanimously elected Margaret Kitchin as president of the Young People's Service League of Saint Mary's on September 19. Margaret will fill the vacancy left by Marie Watters, who did not return to school this year. Another recently elected officer of the Y. P. S. L. is Martha Battle, vice-president. Marjorie Stenhouse, secretary of the League, was elected last spring. Other members of the Y. P. S. L. Council include: Page Marshall, Gray Woodard, Helen Ford, Adelaide Curtis, Aurelia Ruthford, Langhorne Alexander, and Anne Hobson. Every Saint Mary's student is a member of the League itself.
