

Town Talk

Thanksgiving has come and gone, and today finds the day students doing the same as every one else . . . studying. However, before all of us settled down after the short holiday, we realized that we had done a great deal.

Sigma-Mu bowling teams, which were recently organized, played their first games Wednesday. Day students on the Sigma team were Gloria Moore and Betty Lou Byrd; on the Mu team were Diana Small, Barbara Ann Pope, Fabian Wadsworth, and Mary Ellen Wellons.

Jenny Park, Peggy Abernathy, Betty Lokey, Phoebe Ann Arledge, Nancy McEachern, Eleanor Tucker, Nancy Duckett, Betty Lou Byrd, and Betty Wilkie attended the pledge dances at State College last week-end while Mabel McDonald went to Carolina for the Grail dances.

Glenn Abbott Harden was present for the dances at VPI two week-ends ago, and Jane Lee Parker spent the week-end in Charlotte about the same time. While she was there, Jane Lee attended the South Carolina-Wake Forest football game.

Of course, every one (just about) went to the traditional Carolina-Duke game last week-end. Golda Gurley, Frances Bickett, and Katharine Blake were particularly enthusiastic spectators among the day students present.

Jenny Park had as her guest during the Thanksgiving holidays Kathryn Russell from the University of Virginia, while Trina Blake entertained two of her cousins from Camden, South Carolina.

Margaret Cummings became an aunt for the third time November 22. This time it is a six-pound baby girl. Congratulations, Margaret's sister!

This year's Thanksgiving was our country's first peace-time Thanksgiving in three long years and the first peaceful November in six years for the whole world. As most of us ate turkey and mince meat pie, we didn't have our brothers or father or close relatives with us to enjoy the feast as they have been accustomed to doing. No, they are still at the four corners of the world seeing that everything is all right. It is because of them that we were able to eat turkey this year in peace. We should all be conscious of what they have done for us. As we sat down to dinner Thanksgiving Day, I hope and I believe that all of us were really thankful.

Hines was looking forward to her Thanksgiving week-end because she was sponsor of her high school homecoming game and dances. She seems to have had a wonderful time. . . .

MARKOVA AND BALLET GROUP GIVE FINE PERFORMANCE

Anton Dolin Dances With Markova As Her Partner

Alicia Markova, the "greatest ballerina in history," her partner, Anton Dolin, and their ensemble including Ana Ricardo, Albia Kavan, Joan Engel, Fay Rachel, Jack Gansert, Marie Taglioni, Lucille Grahn, Carlotta Grisi, and Fanny Cerito gave a brilliant performance at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on Monday evening, November 12, at 8 p.m.

MARKOVA

Miss Markova, who was born in London, studied under Serge Diaghilev. A company was formed under his direction and Miss Markova was to have her first prima ballerina role. Diaghilev died shortly afterwards and the company was dissolved. Difficult years followed during which Miss Markova and Mr. Dolin toured the British Isles with their own group. This famous dancer was the first non-Russian to be accepted in a Russian ballet as the prima ballerina. In 1938 she joined the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. She made her brilliant debut in New York in Giselle.

Mr. Dolin, born in Sussex, England, was also taught by Diaghilev and became the only non-Russian Premier Danseur in Diaghilev's group.

PROGRAM

The first section of the program was Suite de Danse, composed by Frederic Chopin. The choreography was by Michel Fokine. In the Suite de Danse were Nocturne in A Flat Major, danced by Ana Ricardo, Albia Kavan, Joan Engel, Fay Rachel, and Jack Gansert; Valse in G Flat Major, danced by Joan Engel; Nocturne in F Sharp Major, danced by Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin; Prelude in A Major, danced by Albia Kavan; and Valse in C Sharp Minor, danced by Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin.

The next section consisted of a group of romantic dances which included The Polka, composed by Strauss, danced by Albia Kavan, Joan Engel, and Jack Gansert; Pas Espagnole, composed by Ravina, danced by Ana Ricardo; Vestris Solo, composed by Verdi, danced by Anton Dolin; and Pas de Quatre, composed by Pugni, danced by Marie Taglioni, Lucille Grahn, Carlotta Grise, Fanny Cerito, Alicia Markova, Joan Engel, Albia Kavan, and Ana Ricardo.

In the next group were some of the famous dances from The Nutcracker Suite by Tchaikowsky, which included an overture, Danse des Mirlitons, by Albin Kavan, Joan Engel, and Fay Rachel; The Trepak, by Rex Cooper; Grand Adagio, by Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin; Spanish Dance, by Ana Ricardo; Chinese Dance, by Fay Rachel, Joan Engel, and Jack Gansert; Solo by Anton Dolin; Solo (The Sugar Plum Fairy), by Alicia Markova, and as a finale, The Waltz of the Flowers.

Woman's Auxiliary Does Excellent Charity Work

Proceeds of Bazaar Go To the Thompson Orphanage

The Woman's Auxiliary, under the leadership of Katherine Royall, president, has as its purpose this year to help people less fortunate than themselves. Partly to accomplish this objective, the Auxiliary sponsored a Bazaar in the Gym on November 9 from 4:00 to 6:00. Approximately $165 was made, which will go to help take care of a girl at the Thompson Orphanage.

Each member of the Auxiliary gave some worth-while object, which was auctioned off. The auction itself netted approximately $100. There were also a fish pond, a surprise package booth, a side show, a food booth, comprised of toll house cookies, fruit, home-made candy, fruit cake, and many other delicious foods, and a coca-cola booth. The gym was decorated with pines and leaves.

The Woman's Auxiliary is divided into four guilds: St. Cecilia, with Sallie Lee and Jane Lewis chairmen; St. Faith, with Margo Martin and Martha Conger chairmen; St. Anne, with Dabney Little and Cynthia McCall chairmen; and St. Helena, with Katherine Royall and Nancy Cummings, chairmen, all of whom compose the Canterbury Council. The Auxiliary has made plans for several other projects for the year, one of which was filling Thanksgiving baskets for two families.
