BEHAVE ACCORDINGLY

Our last few days of school together are here. To the seniors and the girls not planning to return next year, it is probably more significant than to the others. All of us want to see more of one another now than ever before, trying to crowd into a little time a lot of memories. Yet even though we are rushing things, let's not forget that school is not yet over, that we all have work to do; and let's be considerate of one another, extremely considerate.

Everyone has a great deal of work to do in winding up a year's work and a year's living away from home, and even if there is a lot of fun in the hard work of it, let's not relax on the regulations. When all the exams are over and graduation week-end is actually here, let's remember that we still have a lot to do. Let's remember that many outsiders are here for the week-end and that they will form their impressions of the school from our behavior. Let's remember that we are still Saint Mary's girls, and behave accordingly.

Sophomore Suzie

Your English exams are finished, Suzie, and you have spent your last hours of work at Saint Mary's. It will not be the end of Saint Mary's though, because the memories and friendships will last you the rest of your life.

Week-end before last will no doubt head the lists of a great many memories. It was a beautiful sunny week-end and you would never have suspected that a dark cloud of exams was about to come over us. I've heard several people say that the dance was the best girl-break of the year. Every girl must have had her "favorite person" come to it; I have never seen so many good looking men on one dance floor, except at the Junior-Senior. "Red" Munro made his first appearance at Saint Mary's, and he learned quite a few "num-

Worst fault—"Crossing bridges before I get to them."

Odd likes—driving in the rain, upper berths.

Pet passion—snowy days and sled-riding, parties, dances, and sleeping late.

Offices, clubs, etc.—Dance marshal; vice-president of Granddaughters' Club; Belles Staff; Art Club; Political Science Club; Woman's Auxiliary; Mu, Hockey and Basketball teams.

Remarks: Helen is the one who always greets you with a sweet smile. She is usually seen down at the post office waiting for that letter. Popular, dependable, and friendly all describe her. Good in sports, she is a loyal Mu. Saint Mary's will miss her next year.

Favorite perfume—"Tuya."

Favorite expression—"Oh gawrsh!"

Always heard—"Dee, are you studying?"

Favorite article of clothing—yellow pajamas.

Favorite food—mustard sandwiches.

Worst fault—doctoring people.

Odd likes—gym class.

Pet passion—walking in the rain.

Clubs, offices, etc.—Vice-president

Sigma's, secretary French Club, Political Science Club, Art Club, Circulation Staff Belles, Business Staff Stage Coach, Woman's Auxiliary, Letter Club, Athletic Council.

Remarks: That gal that knocks a twenty-five yard goal in hockey, throws a tricky ringer in basketball, has a strong return in volleyball, and has a "home run" swing in baseball is Nina Mae. But she's not only fast in sports; you should see her whip off an English test! She's through when we've just put our pens down. (I've heard she writes in shorthand.) Dependability, versatility, and an all-round good sport add up to Nina Mae.

bers"! I wonder if he suspected that we aren't all registered members of the Night Owl Club? Dabney, that fancy jitterbug "scratching" was very impressive. Now wait a minute; are you sure your date couldn't dance, Margo? Tell him we've heard that one before! He was mighty cute though. (Please don't censor this, Mr. Moore.)

Myrtle's brother certainly is attractive.

Making plans for a reunion in five years surely did bring to mind some strange conceptions as to what our friends will have become by then. I heard somebody say with over-optimistic anticipation, "Can we bring our children to the reunion?" Imagine Helen Madre with a bawling baby under her arm! I hear the "Prophets" are concocting some beautiful futures for us. I hope they have me a graduate of Saint Mary's!

Saints' Sallies

The campus is gay these days with hopeful talk of summer plans and next year. There's a touch of sadness, though, for those who won't be coming back next year. Week-end before last everybody was having a final fling before exams. . . .

Sue Thomas' Navy man is here, back after two years in the Philippines. Martha Van Pat was busy with a visitor from Richmond Saturday night and from Chapel Hill Sunday. Kathryn was dated up for most of the week-end with a Chapel Hill man. Charlotte Hoffman, Mary Helen and Margo were all dating State boys for the Girl-Break. The boys of the ball Saturday night was Price's daddy, who consented to come after much persuasion. He is so glad he came and hope enjoyed it as much as we did.

Lib Clinard, Ruby Leigh, and Edith Hamilton really had a week-end May 11. They went to Chowan, the Williams' camp, had a house party and to try out a new boat, the Rubaiyat. The girls dated two Dekes and a Sigma (Outnumbered, wasn't he?)

Saint Mary's was well represented at May Frolics. Polly Mil, Margo, Dabney, Lib Price and Mary Helen report a most wonderful time! . . . Anyone wondering around the Zete or Kappa Sig houses that Saturday night would have seen Jean Roberts "Strook," "Demp," "Bea," and just about all of Third Smedes.

Betty Adkerson's been getting quite a few calls and letters from a certain Zete recently. Lib Roberts had a gay time last week-end with her "Culpepper man" and her good-looking brother both here. Mary Rose was the envy of everyone last week-end cause of her little jaunt to Sewanee graduation and final. Was she all smiles when she came back!

Sally Ann's "Ace of Hearts" is left for Maine. Is that the reason for all those wistful sighs? (Ed. note: He's being sent back to Norfolk! What kind of Navy does Sally Ann have with her Navy?)

One of our nicest surprises was Cama's beautiful Pika pin she was wearing after she came back from Roanoke the other week-end. Good going, Cama.

Sandy is looking forward to finals at Fishburne, and Nancy Norton is all excited about the invitation to McCauley. Since she can't get out there, he's coming to her graduation here. Must be nice!

Ask Edith Allison about the scavenger hunt she got mixed up in Saturday night. Representatives from Carolina, by the way. Speaking of Carolina, that man Gary's was here again.

Luck and Jo had cute dates from Duke, and Martha DeWitt was sporting a brand new fellow from State. She's going to finish with him. Sara Waddell was happy because "he" was here over the week-end.
