Dickenson, Peerce To Sing at Concert

Appear at Memorial Auditorium Nov. 18

Jean Dickenson and Jan Peerce will appear in a joint concert at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, Monday, Nov. 18, at 8:00 p. m. This presentation is the second in the series of Civic Music concerts sponsored in Raleigh this year. The program for the performance has not yet been announced.

Jean Dickinson, "nightingale of the airways," formerly sang for the Pet Milk program on Saturday night. Jan Peerce, tenor, once said he felt that since he was so ugly, he would never make a success of a concert career. He has also appeared on the radio.

Saint Mary's students will attend this concert, under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Bason.

Mrs. Whiznant and Jessie Zentz Guests Of Auxiliary

Mrs. W. D. Whiznant, of Thompson Orphanage, Charlotte, spoke to the Woman's Auxiliary Sunday night, Nov. 10. She brought with her Jessie Zentz, 13-year-old member of the orphanage, whom the Saint Mary's Auxiliary will clothe this year.

HIGH SCHOOL AVERAGES

Mrs. Whiznant pointed out in her talk that children from the orphanage have excellent records in school. (See P. 4, Col. 4)

Hal Thurston and Orchestra To Play For Senior Dance

Rose and Clark to Be Heads of Decoration Committee

Hal Thurston and his Rocky Mount orchestra have been engaged to play for the annual Senior dance, to be in the gym, Dec. 14 from 8:30 until 12, Jean Roberts, Durham, president of the Senior Class, disclosed today.

Invitations and dance cards have been ordered. This year the cards will be in black and white instead of the usual blue and white. There will be ten card dances and three extras.

Gene Rose, Henderson, will direct the art work of the decorations, and Katherine Clark, Lynchburg, Va., will supervise the erecting of these decorations.

DANCE FIGURE

PROFESSOR QUIZ TO BE GUEST OF STUDENTS

To Appear in Auditorium of Saint Mary's School Wednesday Night

"Professor Quiz," celebrated radio entertainer, will be the guest of Saint Mary's Wednesday night, Nov. 20, at 7:00 p. m. in the auditorium. He will broadcast his famous quiz show from Raleigh Memorial Auditorium Thursday, Nov. 21, from 7:30 to 8:00 p. m.

BEGAN AS ACROBAT

Born Craig Earl in New England, "Professor Quiz" began his career as a tightrope-walker and acrobatics performer in a circus at the age of seven. After a bad fall he turned to a sleight-of-hand routine in vaudeville. At 14, he took his act to Europe.

DANCING PAYS MORE

Finding classical dancing a better paying act, he gave up his magic routine and teamed up with a woman dancing partner. They appeared all over Europe, Mr. Earl at the same time studying under a Heidelberg professor to improve his neglected education.

Returning to America, he entered medical school in New England, from which he graduated only to give up medicine for lecturing. He was invited to go on the air—and soon the Professor Quiz radio program was born.

HOBBY IS MAGIC TRICKS

Six feet tall, weighing 260 lbs., and having dark wavy hair and a little waxed mustache, "Professor Quiz" has been entertaining troops for the past several years with his magic tricks, which he still keeps up as a hobby.

Yehudi Menuhin Witty, Gracious and Charming

"I'm more interested in food right now than anything else," Yehudi Menuhin told the BELLES' interviewer—it was after the concert, and he had had no supper. He had to eat and catch a train in a short time, so the interview was a brief one—enough, however, for him to prove himself gracious, witty, and thoroughly charming.

When asked if he played and practiced every day, Mr. Menuhin replied that he did not, that he hadn't practiced at all the day of the concert nor the day before have enough time to enjoy them that, but that on the day before, he had practiced three hours.

"I have never had stage fright," Mr. Menuhin declared, "but I always feel a warm glow of excitement when I appear before an audience." He has been playing the violin since the precocious age of five and has been appearing in concerts since he was seven, at which time he made his debut in San Francisco. At eight he studied abroad and at ten played with the New York Symphony orchestra.

He likes the movies, but doesn't often. Swimming is his hobby, and he spends spare moments taking long walks. He indicated that he is happily married; his wife formerly accompanied him on tours, but now they have a daughter, 7, and a son, 8.

The secret of Yehudi Menuhin's feeling and ability for playing the violin is perhaps disclosed in this statement of his: "I believe that music is close to humanity. Life is a university in which I learn more each day, and which keeps me constantly interested in all going on around me."
