William Masselos, pianist, will appear at Saint Mary's auditorium Thursday night, February 20.

The young artist was graduated from the Institute of Musical Art and the Graduate School of Juilliard. He studied under Carl Friedberg.

Debut at 18

At the age of 18, Masselos made his debut in Town Hall. His youth and technique were acclaimed. In his second Town Hall performance, the press praised his talent. To quote one review: "... the pianist's sheer vitality and exuberance, his technical address and his sense of form are exciting."

Martha Graham, Modern Dancer, To Be Here Feb. 21

Full Company, Special Orchestra Will Appear With Dance Artist

Martha Graham, modern dance artist, will appear at Memorial Auditorium as a Civic Music Association artist at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 21. A full company of young moderns, each of whom has attained recognition in his own right, travels with Miss Graham. A special orchestra under the direction of Louis Horst will perform with the dance group.

Modern Dance Pioneer

A pioneer in modern dancing, Miss Graham has in her newest works evolved a new form of theater-piece, a dance-drama. She and her company, in their first extensive tour since the war, are coming with a repertory made up entirely of New York hits.

Miss Graham has been called "the greatest celebrity of the dance world."

Light Bulbs Given, Pins Found By Genial Mrs. Evie Callahan

Woeful students with broken windows, sad girls searching for lost rings and fraternity pins, and frail mites with huge trunks to be carried up to third floor all find their way to the office of kind, jolly Mrs. Evie Callahan, Saint Mary's spectacled housekeeper. Was she surprised when we told her we only wanted to talk!

After seating ourselves in her cheery office, we discovered that there is more to keeping Saint Mary's girls in light bulbs and such than meets the eye. Between duties, Mrs. Callahan told us that she was born right here in Raleigh, where she attended the city schools and that she lives at 2 Ashe Avenue, which is "really right on the campus."

Mrs. Callahan was night supervisor of the Commercial and Capital building in Raleigh before coming here, which, we discovered, she enjoys very much. "I hope the girls like me as much as I do them!"

Hobbies

It would seem that Mrs. Callahan would be almost too busy for

Posture Week To Begin On Thursday; Queen To Be Chosen

Circle Walks, Tags Three New Members

Hassler, Roberts, and Wallace
Honored in Moonlit Ceremony

At an impressive, moonlit ceremony Joan Hassler, Thomasville; Elizabeth Roberts, Culpeper, Va.; and Rose Wallace, Chase City, Va., were tapped by the Circle Friday night, Feb. 7.

Joan Hassler is perhaps best-known as chairman of assembly; "Libba" Roberts, as marshal; Rose Wallace, as secretary of Senior class.

Membership in the Circle is an honor attained by few and indicates some indefinable quality which can perhaps be called "what Saint Mary's stands for."

To Be Sponsored by Posture Class and Mrs. William C. Guess

To make Saint Mary's girls more conscious of lovelier figures and better health which result from good posture, "Posture Week," sponsored by the posture class under direction of Mrs. William C. Guess, physical education teacher, will begin Thursday, Feb. 20, and continue through Tuesday, Feb. 25. The center of interest will be the selection of a Posture Queen.

Competition

Cheer leaders will be on hand to stir up competition between Sigmas and Mus. Surprise skits will be given at intervals.

The Queen, as well as the society from which she is chosen, will receive athletic points.

Candidates will be chosen from each of the classes and from the business class. Day students will be included also. Eliminations will then cut down candidates to one Sigma and one Mu from each class.

The Queen last year was Lavan Baltzell, Jacksonville, Fla., Mu. Nancy Hannah, Greenville, Sigma, was runner-up, and Betsy Evans, Enfield, Mu, took third-place honors.

The Queen will be chosen and announced in assembly in the final contest and will receive an award at the Athletic banquet held at the end of the year.

Committees

Elizabeth Wetterau, Birmingham, Ala., is chairman of the arrangements.

The following girls have been appointed as chairmen of the various committees: Sara Mell Smith, Birmingham, Ala., and Elizabeth Wetterau, co-chairmen of the assembly and judges committee; Mary Craig Hunter, Vienna, Va., poster committee; Barbara Pope, Dunn, publicity committee; Corneille Rylander, Americus, Ga., skit committee.

Woman's Auxiliary Sponsors Services Throughout Lent

Short chapel services will be sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary several afternoons each week throughout Lent, Cynthia McCaw, Bristol, R. I., president of the Auxiliary, recently announced. Services will be from 5:45 to 6:00 p.m., with voluntary attendance.

a hobby, but she loves reading—"even if there's not much time!"—flowers, movies, and people—"Just any folks, especially Saint Mary's girls!"

At this moment Minnie (what would Holt do without her?) came in, and Mrs. Callahan bustled off, returning with a smile and answering our question about her ambition.

Loves New York

"I've been to New York one time, but I do want to go again! Also I love Wilmington, with the plantations, camellias, and azaleas, and I'd love to go there!"

But on vacations she "just likes to go."

Mrs. Callahan laughed and said that the hardest thing for her is 7:30 breakfast (and don't we agree!). She also added gaily that the part of her job that she liked best was "elbowing with the girls!" With this, Mrs. Callahan went about her business as Saint Mary's housekeeper, looking after our shattered lamps and finding our lost objects with a cheery smile and a jingle of keys.
