NCCPA Convenes In Raleigh Today

Springing back to life for the first time since the war, the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will convene in Raleigh at the Carolina Hotel today and tomorrow with Jack Fisler, editor of the Technician at State College, in charge.

Registration was at 8:10 this morning, and a luncheon was given by N. C. State College this noon with Noel Houston, Chapel Hill, the main speaker. After lunch, four panel discussions were held, and tonight there is a banquet and informal dance at the hotel.

The first meeting of the association since 1941, a full program has been planned and delegates will find well worth while the time and expense of attending the meet, according to Mr. Fisler.

Ann Jones, Summerville, S. C.; Virginia Smith, Ridley Park, Pa.; Jane Gower, Greenville, S. C.; Eleanor Hope Newell, Orlando, Fla., and Mrs. Alvin T. Wallace, BELLES' adviser, will represent Saint Mary's.

Strickland To Give Recital

Jean Strickland, Wilson, organ pupil of Russell Broughton, will present an evening recital in the chapel on May 11. This will be the second in a series of student organ recitals.

Sophomores Select 17 Superlatives

"Most Likely to Succeed" was the title awarded Susan Taylor, Morganton, when sophomores elected class superlatives in the study hall April 30. Susan is class president.

Other superlatives included: Best All Round—Betty Mardre, Windsor; Most School Spirit—Myrtle Alston, Henderson; Hair—Iris McEwen, Burlington; Hands—Anne Nowell, Ahsokie; Eyes—Betty Beal, Greensboro; Poise—Edith Allison, Statesville; Friendliest—Betsy Shepard, Edenton.

Reunion To Be Held By Class of 1892

Graduates of more than 50 years ago—members of the Saint Mary's class of 1892—and 11 other former classes ranging from 1902 to last year will be reunited here on Alumnae Day, May 31.

Following the morning's business session, former graduates will discuss 'old times' at a luncheon given by the school and at an afternoon tea.

Language Society Chooses Officers

Logan Vaught, HANDBOOK editor, Winston-Salem, was elected president; Helen Eppes, new STAGE COACH editor, Henderson, vice-president; and Lenoir Williams, Faison, secretary and treasurer for next year of the honorary language society, Sigma Pi Alpha, at its last meeting.

Superman?

It's Superman! It's an angel! It's a bird! No, it's a plane. . . . Girls duck, scream, and wonder why the sudden infestation of P-40's and Piper Cubs zooming perilously overhead. Freckled noses and sunburned "toeses" give away the secret—pilots are playing at reconnaissance work over the sun porch before completing a mission to Saint Mary's.

Uncle Remus to Visit Gym for Junior-Senior Frolic

The Old South, with its beautiful ladies, gallant gentlemen, and gay plantation life will be the background of the annual Junior-Senior dance Saturday night, May 10. Under a multicolored pastel ceiling Saint Mary's girls, with dates and stags, will dance to the notes of Hal Thurston. Highlights of the "ante-bellum" murals will be the plantation house and garden, and Uncle Remus, with his fabulous tales of animal life.

Possum Hunters

Behind the bandstand will be the well-remembered river boat, complete with smokestacks and passengers, and cotton pickers, old mammies, and possum hunters will complete the decorations.

Figure Participants

Another highlight of this "Gone With the Wind" era ball will be the figure, presented during intermission. Participants in the figure will be: Jean Roberts, Durham; Nancy O'Keeffe, Bluefield, W. Va.; Rose Wallace, Chase City, Va.; Virginia Woodley, Creswell; Luck Flanders, Swainsboro, Ga.; Nellie Truslow, Chestertown, Md.; Page Parrish, Richmond, Va.; Helen Eppes, Henderson; Margaret Norfleet, Jackson; Elizabeth Myatt, Goldsboro; Peggy Swindell, Washington; Betsy Ann Evans, Enfield; Nancy Hannah, Greenville; Corneille Rylander, Americus, Ga.; Lila Spilman, Statesville; Peggy Swinson, Wilson; Logan Vaught, Winston-Salem.

Members of the faculty will make up the receiving line.

The dance will be over promptly at 12:00, when the gay young belles of the Old South will bid their gallants good-by and return to the everyday life of a twentieth century schoolgirl.

Circle Taps Seven Outstanding Girls

In the traditional moonlight ceremony, April 30, seven new members were tapped by the Circle, Saint Mary's honorary organization. They are Page Parrish, Richmond, Va.; Anne Willingham, Marietta, Ga.; Helen Eppes, Henderson; Jean Strickland, Wilson; Ann Jones, Summerville, S. C.; Sara Covington, Bennettsville, S. C.; and Luck Flanders, Swainsboro, Ga.

Circle girls, chosen from the entire college department, receive one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a Saint Mary's student.
