Denham Speaks To Canterbury Club

Saint Mary's Canterbury Club met May 13 in the hut for a picnic supper. John Denham, of the University of North Carolina, was the speaker. Mr. Denham spoke on the Regional Canterbury Commission and its plans for the future. He also talked about the leadership conference and the annual Canterbury retreat. Assisting him was Frances Drane, a former Saint Mary's student.

Saint Mary's Canterbury Club will meet in the hut May 20 with the Raleigh Canterbury Club, composed of the clubs from State, Peace, and Meredith. Mr. John Carter, from the Church of the Good Shepherd, will accompany the Raleigh Canterbury Club to Saint Mary's. The Rev. Peter Katt, rector of Saint Saviour's Episcopal Church, will speak on church work in the summer.

When the girls begin packing to go home, the club is planning to sponsor a clothing drive.

The charter application has gone to the Regional Canterbury Commission to be approved. From there it will go to the National Canterbury Association for final approval. The club expects to receive its charter by June 1.

Sophomores Plan Class Day Program

The sophomore class will present its annual class day activities in the auditorium Saturday morning, June 2, at ten-thirty.

The program will begin with the welcome by Sally Dalton, president of the class. After the Alma Mater is sung, Laura Matheson, secretary of the class, will call the roll. After Beaufort Law reads the class prayer, and Clairene Harris reads the class poem, the class history, the class prophecy, and the last will and testament will be read. Sally Dalton will then present Dr. Stone a gift from the sophomores. Florence Swindell will announce the superlatives, and Dr. Stone will award the scholastic prize to the sophomore with the highest average. The Rev. Mr. Hughes will dismiss the group with the benediction.

Writers of the class history are Nancy Haltom, Nancy Bernhardt, and Sally Hagood. Those writing the class prophecy are Faith Robinson, Mary Jane McDowell, Julie Nolan, and Chris Durham. Nell Eley, Emilie Adams, Barbara Stott, and A. J. Owens are writing the last will and testament.

LEISURE: WHAT IS IT?

It's not something that's found at Saint Mary's, and that's for sure. That's for dang sure! (That's the answer your roaming reporter received.) Of course there are those few who make an attempt at pretended leisure every once in a while, like those seniors who dawdle over a second cup of coffee and a piece of toast in the morning after everyone else leaves the dining room. They know that they will have to let pulling up the covers do for bedmaking and a hit or miss lipstick job do for make-up before they dash to an eight-thirty class. Then there are the times when somebody down the hall yells "fourth" and another answers with "count me in," knowing full well that the bridge game will only mean a late light.

Frankly, though, I've never heard anybody at Saint Mary's complain about "no leisure time." They never get that far! All they want is "enough time," enough time to do all that they are supposed to do, plus—well, let's face it—all that they want to do.

I guess there isn't anyone who can enjoy being idle for long. We all like to have something to do, and we're all happier when we're doing something. Thus is leisure time counted out as being idle time. I suppose the leisure days at Saint Mary's are those in which every minute is not occupied with a "must." Being constantly on the run can be pretty wearing, but be honest, you-all, isn't being busy fun?!
