Reverend Dr. Lea Conducts Service

The Reverend Dr. William Lea, rector of Saint John's Church in Knoxville, Tennessee, conducted the Lenten service on Wednesday afternoon, April 7.

The topic of Dr. Lea's talk was on the "athlete of Christianity." He described the "athlete of Christianity" and told of the ways to become one. He said people should train their lives every day for God as athletes train to keep in condition. "The Christian should take as much pride in his work as the star athlete takes in playing his game," stated Dr. Lea. In closing Dr. Lea drew several parallels between the Christian and the athlete, showing the similarity between the two.

State Chancellor Addresses Assembly

St. Mary's faculty and students had the pleasure of hearing Chancellor C. H. Bostian of N. C. State College on Tuesday, April 6, in assembly. He was introduced by Dr. Richard Stone. Chancellor Bostian told a little of the history of State College and of the vast improvements that have been made through the years. He briefly spoke on some of the courses offered at State. Chancellor Bostian added several humorous jokes to make his talk entertaining as well as interesting. He closed by expressing a desire to see a closer relationship between St. Mary's and State College.

Mme. Bachauer Presents Concert

The Raleigh Civic Music Association presented Mme. Gina Bachauer, pianist, in a concert at Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, April 7. Mme. Bachauer is a Greek pianist who has toured in Europe and Egypt. She gave her first American recital in New York's Town Hall in October, 1950. Mme. Bachauer studied music at the Athens Conservatory, in Paris, and with Serge Rachmaninoff.

The first portion of the program consisted of Vivaldi's Concerto in D Minor. The second selection consisted of three sonatas by Scarlotti. Next was Beethoven's Sonata in A Major, Opus 101. Barcarolle in F Sharp Major, Opus 60 and Polo-naise in F Sharp Minor, Opus 44, both by Chopin, followed. Debussy's "Prelude Sarabande" and "Tocata" from Suite Pour le Piano concluded the program.

Mme. Bachauer charmed her audience with her delightful renditions of the Chopin and Debussy pieces. Her inimitable style made itself apparent as she executed the diffi-

Beacon Sponsors Clean-Up Drive

The members of the Beacon are sponsoring a clean-up campaign which will last until the end of the present year. The chief purpose of this campaign is to beautify the school campus. The organization has distributed signs around the campus reminding students to keep off the grass and to stay on the walkways. The members themselves are acting as reminders when students are seen cutting across the lawns.

The Beacon is a high school honorary organization whose purpose is to promote school spirit, more student co-operation, and more participation in extra-curricular activities. The officers of the Beacon for the present year are Barbara Hunt, president, and Debbie Conner, secretary and treasurer. Barbara has asked that all students give the Beacon their full co-operation during this campaign.

cult compositions of Beethoven and Vivaldi. Through the whole program she displayed definite skill and talent.
