

Thanks To Miss Davidson

In reference to the recent article that appeared in the Randolph-Macon newspaper about the Seniors at St. Mary's making the honor roll, the following letter of reply has been received from Gene Davidson, Exchange Editor:
Dear Carter:

"I should like to take this chance to apopogize for the inclusion of misinformation in my article of several weeks ago. I did not realize that the statement that two-thirds of the St. Mary's senior class had been named to the honor roll was said in jest. I should like to point out, however, that my column is also a feature column, and the material that I use is not always to be interpreted literally. I feel that possibly you misunderstood my intentions, as I evidently misunderstood the statement in your paper.

At any rate, I am truly sorry that you have taken offense at what I wrote, for it was not my aim to falsely represent your school. Nor did I mean for what I said to be considered a "reproach." I do hope that you understand and will accept my apologies, I shall be careful not to make such an error in the future.

Sincerely,
Gene Davidson

MOCK PLANS FOR SPRING VACATION

Many of the St. Mary's girls are planning interesting and exciting trips during Spring Vacation. Several of the senior girls are already beginning to pack for their big week in Nassau. Three of the sophomores, Sherry Pitzer, Mary Lynn Pond, and Nelson Pemberton, are also heading south to Fort Lauderdale along with Gene Hunter who will be visiting her grandmother there. Barbara Brittain and Archer Lee Hannah are planning to soak up some sun in Miami.

Spending Easter week-end at Ocean Drive will be a "mob" of juniors including Mary Christopher, Koko Ottly, Mary Ruth McCutcheon, Linda Parker, Susanne Smith, Lou Whitaker, Betsy Vaden, Betsy Switzer, Judy Merritt, Burnley Kinney, Marty Watkins, and "Vicky" McKenzie. The juniors on third Holt are also planning a house party at O. D. and Trish Armstrong, Nanne Chalgren, Jane Brooks, and Winston Conner will be there for sure.

Spring Vacation For Day Students

The Day Students are certainly looking forward to Spring Vacation as March 25th draws near. Sally Upton, Liz Hill, Celeste Barnette, Barbara Leippe, Alice Wilson, Sarah Levine, and Martha Thomas are planning a trip to Myrtle Beach. Mary Yarborough and Sis Strong are also hoping to get to go to the beach.

Frances Douglass Bridgers is going to Ft. Benning, Georgia, and Ginny McKimmon is going to Florida to visit Martha Kirchheimer Culbreth (a former St. Mary's girl) for a few days. Mary Lou Dorris is planning a trip to Charlotte. Linda Jacobs hopes to go to Greensboro to visit Sam (Sam Who?), and Bitsy Wingfield is going to Georgia for a few days.

PARTY: SUCCESS

On Thursday, March 23, the Senior Class gave a party for the juniors. The juniors and seniors have been talking about their poor relationship between the classes. It was hoped that this picnic will bring the two classes closer together and that it would also better relations between the faculty and students.

In the afternoon there will be organized games with the two classes competing against each other and among themselves. After the games a picnic dinner was served. This was a lot of fun, and it is certain that the two classes feel somewhat closer after the picnic.

CAN YOU IMAGINE
* * * The Day Students being called a "species"?
* * * St. Mary's having two weeks for Spring Vacation?
* * * Cynthia Anderson not saying "sho"?
* * * Dinnie pulling strings?

RINGS ARRIVE

The freshman class rings have just arrived, so the main activity of all the freshmen lately has been waving of hands in everyone's faces. The freshman finally resumed selling hot dogs, which will be sold at 9:30 every Tuesday night unless otherwise announced.

The sophomores, while still selling sandwiches every Friday and Saturday night, are busily making plans for the Sophomore Class banquet to be held in the Confederate House toward the end of April. They are all looking forward to it, and hope to have a wonderful time.
