CCUN Plans Next Year

The Collegiate Council of the United Nations is a newly-formed club for those at St. Mary's interested in current affairs. It is affiliated with the national CCUN, but unlike the other clubs, membership is open not only to college students but also to high school students who are interested. Under the guidance of Miss Morrison, members meet every other Wednesday night from 6:30 to 7:30 in Mrs. Cell's classroom to discuss current topics of general interest. For example, in their last meeting, the CCUN discussed the recent intergration incident in Raleigh concerning Miss Angie Brooks, the U.N. ambassador from Liberia.

Recently the club has been entertaining the seven boys now in Raleigh who are a part of the experiment in International Living.

Next year will be a busy one for the CCUN. It is planning to attend

Time Gives Award

Mary Lindsay Smith of Raleigh has recently been awarded a Certificate of Excellence by Time Magazine. She received the award for having made the highest score on the Time Current Affairs Test. Mary Lindsay also received a bound copy of Life Magazine's The Epic of Man. She is a history student of Mrs. Stoops.

the Model United Nations General Assembly which meets annually at either Chapel Hill, Durham, or Raleigh. Along with other college students, CCUN members will go to Duke University to participate in the Model U.N. and to discuss world affairs. They are also planning to participate in the Model North Carolina State Legislature here at Raleigh.

The CCUN will not only be participating in national and state programs, but they are planning an active year on campus. Members will sponsor a speaker from the Peace Corps, who will be of interest to the whole student body. At various times during the year, they will also have speakers who will follow up those sponsored by the school for assemblies and lectures. Club members themselves will conduct and participate in assembly programs.

Beginning in September, the CCUN will put into use a new form of organization which will be based on the point system. Members will receive five service points for the attendance of each meeting, seven points for meeting reports and ten points for programs given in assembly. At the end of the year, officers will be chosen for the following year by the number of points they have accumulated.

Sigmas Win Plague

The awarding of the athletic plaque to the Sigmas climaxed the Letter Club Banquet held yesterday in the gym. Mu president Flo Pitts relinquished the plaque to Sigma president Linda Connelly.

Dr. Guerry began the banquet by presenting the outstanding player awards to the girls having shown outstanding sportsmanship and skill in the various sports. The award winners were: Verna

Gillam, soccer; Betty Herndon, posture; Betty Pat Parson and Mary Jim Baskerville, bridge; Nelson Pemberton, basketball; Katherine Geddie, ping pong; Betsy Phiffer, badminton; Jane De Loach, volleyball; Flo McNeer, swimming; Susan Goode, Orchesis; Jewel Ragsdale, Caperettes; Ann Palmer, softball; Winborne Shaffer, track; Alice Gann, riding; Mary Lindsay Smith, archery; Lee Hopkins, tennis; Joy Farlow, golf; and Sue Weaver, bowling.

Following these awards, Nelson Pemberton presented awards to the three girls who had accumulated the most athletic points during the year. Highest was Lee Hopkins with 260 points. Winborne Shaffer and Flo Pitts tied for first runner up with 195 points.

The music of the Cold Cuts and the serving of fried chicken ended the banquet.

A committee composed of Helyn Watson, new Letter Club president, Lee Hopkins, old Letter Club president, Flo Pitts, Verna Gillam, Linda Connelly, Nelson Pemberton, and Miss Lou Jones planned this year's banquet.

Bandy Give Piano Concert

On Thursday night, May 9, was a concert for Miss Isabel Bandy, who gave a recital for an accompanist certificate. This certificate is the first of its kind to be given at St. Mary's.

The first selection was "O, Mio Core" sung as a duet by Betsy Phiffer and Karen vom Lehn. Following "O, Mio Core" was Marion Purell singing "Love Has Eyes" and "Oh, Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" Shirley Truitt then sang three selections; "Lungid dal Caro", "Amarrilli", and "Air from Comus." Betsy Phiffer appeared again to sing "Le Temps Alissez", "Romance", and "Les Filles de Cadiz." Karen vom Lehn then sang "Connais-tu Le Pays." The last selections to be accompanied by Isabel were "Shore on the Shining Night," "Lady of the Amber Wheat," and "Feast of Lanterns" all sung by Gretchen Craig. All of the girls who sang to Isabel's accompaniment are voice students of Miss Geraldine Cate. The public was invited to the recital which was held at 8:30 p.m. in St. Mary's auditorium.

Isabel, who has taken piano for twelve years, plans to complete her education at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. She will major in music in the primary grades as a parallel prerequisite for training as a musical therapist.

"Musical therapy is a means of rehabilitating mental patients," explains Isabel, who hopes to work at Dix Hill this summer as a musical therapist.

Other requirements for this work include six months internship involving work with mental patients through music.

"Music sometimes helps mental patients to recall and to reconstruct certain important events in rehabilitation," says Isabel, who is a senior at St. Mary's and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bandy of Greensboro.

Freshmen Win BELLES' Contest

The BELLES' Song Contest took place Thursday, May 9, during assembly. This year the annual contest was won by the Freshman Class. The Senior Class took second place. Judges for the contest were Dr. Broughton, Dr. Brown, Dr. Jones, members of St. Mary's faculty. The Senior Class song written by Caroline Walker to the tune of "Knock! Knock!" covered almost every phase of the seniors' lives at St. Mary's.

Anne Roberts and Margaret Bell wrote the lyrics of the Junior Class song, which expressed the feelings that the members of the Junior Class have for St. Mary's. The tune the Juniors used was "Everybody Loves a Lover."

The Sophomore Class took advantage of the song contest to say good-bye to St. Mary's and to invite the Freshman Class to take their place. Rosalie Hanley, Ann Holcombe, Dianne Ricks, and Helen Wright wrote the song, which the class sang to the tune of "It Will Stand."

"Forbidden Fruit" was the tune of the Freshman Class song written by Katy Kerby, Susan Jafford, and Molly Roper. The Freshman Class song revealed a few experiences of the "hard-hit" Freshman Class.
