Solved: The Problem Of Summer Vacation

By Shirley McCaskill

Now that exams are drawing near, and the dropping of the little white handkerchief is not too far away, St. Mary's girls are once again faced with an ever recurring problem: how to endure living through those long, boring, summer days until the next academic year when they can joyfully resume their neglected studies. Some girls take the easy way outthey simply go to summer school and, thus are never parted from their books. The more unfortunate have to rely on remedial methods which only create the illusion of a short summer. Here are a few specific examples of how the problem of summer vacation is being solved:

Michele Bratton, Audrey Wall, Francis Lewis, Judy Mitchiner, and Bo Goubaud are taking a European tour with Mrs. Nicholson. They sail on June 9 from New York, and will tour the northern countries of Europe first—England, Scotland, etc.—and then come down to Italy and Greece. The tour ends August 14 in Paris. However, Michele and Bo won't be leaving for the states until August 24. Following the tour, they will then go to Spain to spend some time with Bo's aunt and tour the country.

Pammy Holcombe, Mary Stuart Dent, and Diane Ricks are taking a Brownell tour of Europe conducted by Pammy's mother. They will sail June 9 on the Anna Maria. The tour includes seventeen countries. Diane Ricks is especially anticipating their tour of Yugoslavia since "you have to have special permission to go behind the Iron Curtain." A bullfight in Spain and, perhaps, a stay in some of the French chateaux are also on the agenda.

Gene King, Louise Clark, and Perry Grimes are also taking a Brownell Tour of Europe. They will leave June 24 from New York. One of the highlights of their tour will be a cruise of the Greek islands. The tour ends August 18.

Ardis Parrott is going on a tour under the direction of Mr. Singleton from her hometown in Greenville, South Carolina. Approximately thirty people are going. They sail June 29 from New York on the Aurelia. Ardis is looking forward to her two weekends on the French and Italian Rivieras. The tour ends August 30.

Chris Goubaud will be working in a mission in San Juan, New Mexico, this summer from June 27 to August 14. The GFS of the Episcopal Church is sponsoring three projects this summer—one in San Juan, one in New Haven, Connecticut, and one in West Manhattan. Chris will be one of the two girls in charge of the San Juan project. The project it-self entails working with Navajo Indian children at the mission. Chris will live at the mission with them and supervise arts and crafts as well as recreational activities. Besides anticipating the personal satisfaction of having participated in the project, looking forward to seeing some of her old friends in New Mexico, since she lived there for eight

I am going to Castelnoudary, a school in France near the Riviera, for summer school. Castelnoudary is an international boarding school for girls ages 16 to 28. Only French is taught. Each girl is put into one of three classes, the third class being for those who have had at least four years of French. An additional French literature class, also for advanced students, has recently been added. I will have about five classroom hours of French each day, which includes instruction in oral French and composition. Lectures on French culture, concerts, and weekly trips to different cities are also a part of the program, (as well as weekly At the end of the term, May I to July 3, each girl is awarded a diploma if "she has completed her work satisfactorily!" I am sailing from New York on the Aurelia on June 29, and will return to the states on September 3.

St. Mary's Losing A Dear Friend

By Debbie Ellis

At the beginning of each new school year, all of the new girls are asking themselves two questions. Who is Precious, and what does "agape" mean? It does not take long for them to find out, because they are soon greeted by our beloved chaplain, Dr. Guerry.

There are two important facts that the new girls learn about Dr. Guerry. Firstly, Dr. Guerry is in love with Precious, and, secondly, Dr. Guerry is from Charleston, South Carolina. Some of the new girls wonder if this is his whole life story, but they soon find out that there are many other facts. For instance, Dr. Guerry "attended" Ashley Hall! Then he went to Sewanee, where he graduated and began teaching English at the University of Charleston. Leaving Charleston after one year, he took up studies at Virginia Seminary. From the Seminary, he served at various churches in South Carolina. Then he went back to his first alma mater to serve as chaplain of the University of the South, for nine years. Departing from Sewanee, Dr. Guerry made

New Counselors Are Announced

By Lamar Sparkman

On Wednesday night, May 12, forty juniors were interrupted in their studies by their hall counselors and instructed to report to Mrs. Adams' immediately. One by one, in all manner of dress, the girls poured out of Smedes, Faculty House, West Rock, and Holt, wondering if a certain long-lost bracelet had suddenly been found, or if their News and Observers had arrived early. puzzlement was soon dissolved, however, when their selection as hall counselors for next year was announced. It was explained to each girl that if she accepted this honor, she would not know who her room-mate would be or where she would room until later.

A committee composed of Evelyn Martin, Chairman of the Hall Council; Alice Tripp, Secretary of the Hall Council; Roslyn Bowers, Student Government President; and Miss Richardson worked long and hard for two weeks on the final list of girls, which was approved by Dr. Stone.

There will be two counselors for each of the nineteen halls and two roving counselors. The system of roving counselors was initiated last year in an effort to take some of the load off the Student Government officers on second Smedes and the senior counselors in Penick.

The girls who will be counselors for 1965-66 are: Margaret Anderson, Gayle Boineau, Lucy Brown, Lynn Brumby, Meg Christian, Sallie French, Sherrill Griffin, Cassie Henry, Rae Herrin, Marie Kirksey, Cheryl Koenig, Jean Muchmore, Amey Parsons, Suzanne Poole, Alice Purdie, Memory Rockwell, Judy Rogers, Susie Soper, Anne Simmons, Stanley Smith, Lesley Wharton, Roslyn Bowers, Evelyn Martin. Dr. Guerry

Norfolk his home and Old St. Paul's his parish. For nearly twenty years, Dr. and Mrs. Guerry lived in Norfolk raising their son and daughter. Then, St. Mary's lucky day came, and Dr. Guerry came to our school in 1957. For eight years, Dr. Guerry has been an active member of St. Mary's, living right in the middle of our school day traffic.

An essential part of Dr. Guerry is Mrs. Guerry. She, also, is a graduate of Ashley Hall. After graduating, "her father gave her some ball gowns and a pistol," and she made her way into the world. For thirty-nine years, Dr. and Mrs. Guerry have made a handsome team.

Today, St. Mary's is faced with losing one of her greatest assets, for Dr. Guerry is leaving to go to Norfolk where his four grandchildren live. Can you imagine four little Dr. Guerry's singing "Oh what a beautiful morning" while doing the Sewanee hand clap?

But, there is something left out in the midst of all these facts – Dr. Guerry the man. The facts are not the man. The facts are not the man who waves to you in your classes. The facts are not the man who sneaks previews at the future plays. The facts are not the man who tells stories of school and Precious. The facts are not the man who welcomes you into his house anytime of day or night. The facts are not the man who gives you a great big smile when you really need a boost. The facts are not the man who waits with an open ear to hear anybody's problems, large or small. No, the facts are only the mere foundation upon which this man is built.

The man is Dr. Guerry.

Dr. Guerry, you are the man who found "the living God face to face" by seeking Him with human kindness and love. And even though you are leaving, you will never leave the spirit of St. Mary's. So:

When we say farewell,
we shall not mean goodbye;
The spark you lit in our hearts,
will never die.

Agape.
