

The Belles

OF ST. MARY'S

VOL. XXIX, NO. 7.

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

February 11, 1966

Students, Tates To Travel To N. Y. At Easter

By Susan Crabtree

Mr. Tate, Mrs. Tate, three Tate children and many jubilant spring-happy St. Mary's girls will jet to New York this Easter via chartered bus. Besides being an English teacher, dramatic actor (specialty—Othello), and friend to all, Mr. Tate becomes a chaperone every spring vacation to students from all four classes who want to go to New York.

The group will stay at the Hilton on special student rates from April 13-15. After arrival Thursday night and a good rest, everyone is free to visit entertainment spots from the ballet to the MAD preview. Plays to see include two three-year favorites—Barefoot in the Park, and Any Wednesday (a story about a man who meets his mistress on his Wednesday afternoons off), Sweet Charity, and Phaedra. Recommended by Mr. Tate, Radio City will be a must on the agenda for most of the girls. Because there are so many plays to see and stores to shop, Mr. Tate lets the girls schedule the entire week for themselves. Especially popular this year is a ballet production of Midsummer Night's Dream complete with Puck and all the fairies. A list of plays which will be running is given out, and one can sign up for tickets to as many or as few as she wants. Some of the girls' meeting dates there will frequent the well-known night spots in "the City," must about anything New York has to offer including Greenwich Village. Tickets will be offered to the St. Mary's girls for a whole wonderful week.

On the lighter side—Mr. Tate recommends the MAD previews which are shown in the afternoons or at MAD hours of the night. A ticket to this event insures one of a table at a penthouse restaurant and a

(Continued on Page 2)

Contestants in the Glamour Contest in their party dresses are left to right, Susan Crabtree, Sue Gelston, Lisa Gilland, Sally King, Marcia Separk, and Laura Whitley.

LISA GILLAND ELECTED SMJC GLAMOUR REPRESENTATIVE

A comely brunette from Charleston, S. C., Miss Lisa Gilland, has been elected by a vote of the student body to represent St. Mary's in the Glamour magazine fashion contest.

Lisa was selected from a field of six girls, that included Susan Crabtree, Sue Gelston, Sally King, Marcia Separk, and Laura Whitley.

These girls were introduced to the student body in a fashion show, sponsored by The Belles, on February 3.

For her on-campus outfit, Lisa displayed a light brown turtle-neck jersey with a dark brown skirt and textured above-the-knee socks.

Her daytime off-campus outfit was a green mohair suit with a bright print blouse, complimenting her fair complexion.

A long red velvet skirt, topped by a white lace over-blouse was Lisa's selection for her party dress.

Lisa will be photographed in each of these outfits and the pictures will then be sent to the national contest headquarters in New York.

To help defray the cost of these pictures, voting was conducted by contributing a dime for the girl of one's choice. A total of $21 was collected in this manner.

Lisa, a senior, is a member of the May Court this year and was also on the court as a junior.

Beacon Inducts Two New Girls

On the thirteenth of January, the Beacon inducted two new members, Molly Grady and Bettie Kellogg.

Molly comes from Paraguay, S. A. She is president of the sophomore class and a member of the Young Democrats Club. Molly is in the National Honor Society, National Spanish Honor Society and a Merit semi-finalist. She was Santa Claus at the Orphanage Christmas Party.

St. Mary's Grad At Hollins Studies Abroad

Miss Ann Dorsey Day, a 1964 graduate of St. Mary's High School is one of 50 Hollins College sophomores now en route to Europe for a year of study and travel as members of the Hollins Abroad program.

Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nere E. Day, Jr., of 1019 South Bay Shore Drive, Virginia Beach.

Hollins has conducted a foreign study program for 11 years. This year's Hollins Abroad group sailed (Feb. 4) from New York City aboard the S.S. Queen Anna Maria. The ship will call at Tangier and the students will have a one-day stop in Lisbon, Portugal, before arriving at LeHavre, France.

Paris is the headquarters of the Hollins Abroad program. While there, Ann will reside with a French family and will study at the Sorbonne. The program is under the direction of a member of the Hollins faculty in Paris.

Ann will leave Paris this summer for a three-month educational tour of some dozen countries arranged through the Council on Student Travel (Paris). The tour is designed to give the students a survey of the cultural history of Europe as well as an insight into some of its current problems.

The students will resume their classes at the Sorbonne in the fall. They will return to the Hollins campus for the start of the second semester in February, 1967, as members of the junior class.

Bettie — "Cornflake" — hails from Manteo, North Carolina. She is a member of the YWCA, the Young Democrats Club, and the Letter Club. Bettie is also president of the Sigmas and has been on every all-star team this year in Sigma-Mu. In addition, she represents the sophomore class in the Leg. Body.

Glamour Contestants from left to right include Lisa Gilland, the winner; Susan Crabtree, Sue Gelston, Sally King, Marcia Separk and Laura Whitley.