ST. MARY'S HONOR ROLL

Honor roll lists were posted November 21 and named those students who had met its requirements in the college and high school sections.

To be on the honor roll a student must have a quality point ratio of 3.0 in a full program of courses. She also cannot have any grade lower than a C- and must have a satisfactory record in attendance and in conduct.

High school students who are on the Honor Roll are excused from the supervised Saturday study halls, and they are allowed to study during this time in the library.

The following students are on the college honor roll: Sarah Aichele, Jennie Andrews, Bennett Blackley, Bonnie Bowen, Deborah Boyd, Jane Britt, Gray Brothers, Jill Bumgarner, Cathy Canady, Leslie Cornman, Mary Douglass, Ginger Duke, Julia Edwards, Carmen Elliott, Pam Fellos, Betty Ferguson, Martha Given, Martha Glenn, Patricia Grimes, Laurie Heffner, Georgia Herbert, Sandra Holsonback, Barbara Jones, Hutton Kent, Beverly Lett, and Patricia Lytle.

Others who are also on the college honor list are Mary Mader, Jane Marzoni, Bradley Matthews, Nancy Matthews, Emily Morgan, Ramsey Owens, Ruth Schenk, Alice Smith, Mary Stewart, Cathy Swain, Trudie Taylor, Rose Ann Thompson, Christine Williams and Laura Whittmer.

BEACON INDUCTS TWO

The Beacon, St. Mary's honor society for high school students, walked the night of December 6 for two sophomores.

The new members are Misses Sarah Chamblee from Waverly, Virginia, and Sally Lennon from Lumberton.

Miss Susan Byars is the President of the Beacon this year.

SENIORS CAROL AROUND CAMPUS

Last night the seniors serenaded the campus — Penick, Smedes, Holt, and Dr. Stone's house — with 20 traditional Christmas carols and songs. To make it seem even prettier, they carried candles.

After caroling, they went to the gym where hot chocolate, donuts, and little candy canes awaited them. They were entertained by the "Cold Cuts" and a skit in which Peabody was Santa Claus and Mr. Roberts was a reindeer.

Arabella Nash was in charge and did a fine job. She was assisted by Carol Lucas, in charge of food, Emily Morgan, in charge of the songs, and Laurie Heffner, who wrote and directed the play. Without them, it would not have been possible.
