

The Belles

OF ST. MARY'S

VOL. XXXII, No. 2

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

October 18, 1968

SIGMA-MU TAP IN NEW MEMBERS

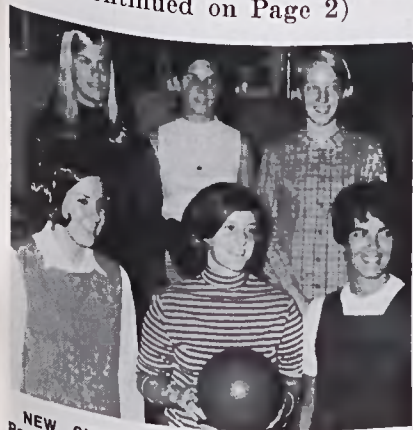

Many people were surprised or scared last week when clanging pans and shouts of "yeah Mus" or "go Sigmas" echoed throughout St. Mary's.

The Sigma-Mu season officially starts the week of October 14 with speedball as the first sport. The teams play every Monday and Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. The best three out of five games determine the winner of the sport being played. The victorious team is given points which are totaled at the end of the school year to determine which team receives its name on the plaque.

Everyone at St. Mary's is urged to attend the Sigma-Mu games and cheer for her respective team. The Sigma and Mu cheerleaders will be there to lead their teams on to victory.

Congratulations are due to the newly chosen Sigma-Mu members. Sigmas are Connie Darby, Anne Fearney, Patty Graves, Peggy Griswold, Cookie Havens, Jane Hall, Penny Hicks, Happy Phelps, Lucy Traxler, Marshall Young, Dru Haley, Susanne Ellis, Doris Stiegman, Beth Holder, Ann Sebrell, Rosie Hammond, Lisa Penny, Susan Foltz, and Nancy Biggs. The Mus are Jane Aycock, Jo Betts Barrett, Debbie Boyd, Jorgann Bullard, Polly Cozart, Mary Douglas, Laura Graham, Sherry Graham.

(Continued on Page 2)

NEW SIGMAS: Dru Haley, Happy Phelps, Peggy Griswold, Jane Hall, Marshall Young, and Lucy Traxler. (See Page 4 for Sigma-Mu Cheerleaders.)

NEW MUS: Sherry Graham, Lillian Rudolph, Jorgann Bullard, Betsy Wharton, Julie Kirkland, Dell Parker, Laura Graham, and Peaches Rankin.

Mary Godwin — Shakespearean Actress and Lecturer.

MARY GODWIN TO BE FIRST LECTURER AT ST. MARY'S

Shakespeare can never be exhausted. Demonstrating this, Mary Godwin, St. Mary's first lecture speaker this year, will expose a fresh approach to Shakespeare's favorite women characters. On Monday, October 21, she will give a performance in Shakespearean costume portraying Portia, Lady Macbeth, and Rosalind in excerpts from The Merchant of Venice, Macbeth, and As You Like It respectively. The following day there will be a workshop for all drama students, for Mr. Tate's English classes, and for any others stimulated by the guest speaker.

The British Arts Council, a group which sends abroad representatives of English culture, highly recommends Mary Godwin. She was co-founder of Canada's first Shakespeare Festival in Toronto and has represented leading Shakespearean females in performances around the world. In this photograph, Mary Godwin is pictured with brass rubbings, a favorite hobby.

SIGMA-MU CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN

The new cheerleaders for the Sigmas are Marilee Hall, Lisa Patrick, Mallery Knee, Betty Gower, Louise Powe, Nan Wilson, Kathy Graham, Gayle Cantrell and Sally B. Andrews.

The Mus have added Kay Wetmore, Dida Turner, Kay Lambeth, Susan Dodd, Jane Wood, Woody Bobbitt, Grace Irby, and Jane Fisher to their squad.

These girls were chosen on the following points: 1) smile, 2) jump, 3) loudness, 4) enthusiasm, pep, and spirit, 5) rhythm and coordination. Tryouts were held last Wednesday in the gym for the Sigmas and in the hut for the Mus.

This year both squads plan on having a new uniform. The exact style has not been chosen yet.

Activities for this year include making posters for all the games and encouraging more people to come to the games. This year's cheerleaders also hope to cheer at more home games and go to more of the away games.

Old cheerleaders for the Sigmas are Betsy Bureson, Martha Davis, Gail Wickam, and Diane Wyatt. Returning Mu cheerleaders are Michele Donovan, Melissa Williamson, Laura Norris, Julie Badger, and Lillian James.

REPRESENTATIVE NICK GALIFIANAKIS'S VIEWS PRESENTED

Democratic Rep. Nick Galifianakis of the North Carolina Fourth District was to speak at assembly Tuesday, October 14. Due to sickness, he was unable to come. However Howard Jones, one of his administrative assistants, came in his place and presented statements prepared by Galifianakis on various issues.

On the Vietnam issue, he stated whether right or wrong, the United States was there by commitments of presidents starting with Eisenhower in 1955. Galifianakis felt that the anti war demonstrations certainly do have an effect on the enemy, and as to the United States pulling out, it should not be done unilaterally.

His stand on the Pueblo crisis was one of diplomacy. He went on to present the reasons for this stand. International waters for the United States begin three miles off shore and twelve miles off shore for the North Koreans. The Pueblo was seized sixteen miles from land. As it stands now, the North Koreans say they will return the crew on three conditions. To accept these proposals would accomplish little, for the guilt confessions could sentence (Continued on Page 3)

Standing beside the plaque dedicating the language lab to Mr. Connelly are Dr. Stone, Mrs. Searcy, Mrs. Swindell, and The Reverend Thomas Smyth.

LANGUAGE LAB DEDICATED

The Language Laboratory was dedicated to Robert Lee Green Connelly at 2:30 p.m. on October 15, 1968, one year and a day after his death. The Reverend Thomas Smyth, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, opened the ceremony by introducing Dr. Richard G. Stone, who gave a loving resume of Mr. Connelly's life.

Obtaining both B. A. and M. A. degrees at U. N. C. in Chapel Hill, Mr. Connelly graduated Phi Beta Kappa and later studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. In 1960, he began teaching at St. Mary's, where he became head of the Language Department. He also served on the Faculty and Admissions Committees. Mr. Connelly also acted as Chairman of the Academic Standards Committee. Mr. Connelly was a class advisor for two years and exuberated ideas and initiative for the school. He was active in dramatics, performing in various productions on campus. He kindly played male roles when needed, since St. Mary's has a scant quantity of men around! "Mr. Connelly had a friendly and close relationship (Continued on page 4)

ere will
ir com-

1
affairs.
both in
and in Carolina,
s.
Mary's
ted Dr.
past dat-

personai
y job is
graduate.
ne."
"I really
but I
up teach-
ighly en-
of St.

ans
Play

II
acted for roduction
n at St.
9. To be
f Father-
l produc-
n's "The
tful mu-
finishing
their love
he 1920's,
music and

lead is portray-
ren Rose
ess of the Dubonnet.
"school-
by Lena
acters in-
igh Ann
r Bryan;
et Davis
oyfriend)
also in
eca Bitt
leigh to
he chorr
irected
th mu-
l Bulley
ne Dra-
vice pr-
secret
Cather
rer.