UNC-CH. He was born in Greece and came to the United States (Charlotte) in 1946 and has lived in Raleigh since 1962. He is married and has three children: two boys, ages eight and six, and one two-year old girl. He tries to see as many football and basketball games as possible and coaches a Little League baseball team. He enjoys music, dancing, reading, and is greatly interested in politics.

Hannah Scoggin (Mrs. Elmo B.) is from Charleston, South Carolina, and teaches sociology and anthropology. She is married to the professor of Old Testament Interpretation at the Southeastern Theological Seminary in Wake Forest. She has one daughter who is married and lives in Kyrenia, Cyprus. Mrs. Scoggin likes to collect ancient pottery, listen to Spanish Baroque guitar music, and to fly in small planes. She also enjoys reading, studying, swimming, golf, and horseback riding.

Mrs. Scoggin received her A.B. and M.A. from the University of Louisville (Kentucky); was a Visiting Scholar at the Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel; and is presently in the PhD. program at UNC-Raleigh. She has taught at the Baptist Mission Schools in Israel, Campbell College, and has done conference teaching and private tutoring.

All the teachers felt that the atmosphere of St. Mary's was warm and friendly. The faculty, administration, staff, and students impressed them as being congenial and cooperative.

LIBRARY CORNER

The library is very proud of its new additions this year. Besides new books, the library is privileged to have two new staff members. Miss Sara Garden Seagle, recently from Holding Technical Institute, is the new assistant librarian. Miss Seagle has worked at UNC and at William and Mary, and was Command Librarian in the Air Force for a number of years. She came to St. Mary's because she wanted to be back in a liberal arts library. Her sister is a former graduate of the school.

Mrs. Andrea Brown is the new assistant in the library. She was a student worker at UNC-G and worked in a library in California. She came to Raleigh and St. Mary's because her husband is in the area.

The library has acquired numerous books over the summer ranging in all categories. All of the current issues are represented, including witchcraft, the sexes, the Ku Klux Klan, Negroes, population, the minorities, social conditions and social movements. There are also many new books on art, golf, tennis and bowling. Several recommended books are: The Wapshot Chronical by John Cheever, Conversations in the Raw by Rex Reed, Famine-1975! America's Decisions: Who Will Survive? by William Paddock and Eileen Ford's Book of Model Beauty. There are also two new books by Kurt Vonnegit.

Besides books, the library has subscriptions to several new magazines. Gulf Digest, World Tennis, Physics Today, National Review, The Listener, Ramparts, Realites in English, and Coming Events in Britain are now in stock! These new editions, along with the new staff, will certainly help to make the library a more informative source on what is happening today.

St. Mary's Choraе Formed

The newly formed St. Mary's Chorale is made up of twenty-two voices. The members of the Chorale plan to have one assembly this fall which will include secular music and a chapel program of sacred songs. The secular music includes songs from "Oliver," "Dr. Zivago," and "Romeo and Juliet." They are also working on two favorites - "Today" and "Cabaret." At the end of this school year, the Chorale will present another program of both secular and sacred music.

SPORTS NEWS:

There are lots of new faces on the Sigma Mu scene. The new Sigmas are Minta Aycock, Polly Bonner, Kathy Dorman, Ginger Edwards, Fokie Flippin, Susie Johnson, Anne Little, Brandon Moore, Kathy Noyes, Charlotte Newman, Gingy Philpott, and Ruth Anne White.

New Mus are Melrose Whitfield, Gay McCormick, Carol Majors, Jean Lybrook, Susan Hundley, Penny Gilliam, Anna DuBose, Celest Dickens, and Dian Cates.

In the next few weeks these girls will be playing speedball, volleyball or basketball.

Elsewhere on the sports scene, the tennis team has chosen its new members. They are Pam Ashford, Anna Dorsett, Anna Dubose, Jane Eggleston, Len Jordan, and Jean Little. Recent additions to the Sea Saints are: Laura Crews, Susan Hundley, Elise Hutchins, Claire Spinks, Gingy Philpott, Ruth Anne White.

BELLES AND BEAUS

The girls at St. Mary's have gotten off to a rather slow start in the lavalier, pin, and engagement department. The reactions received when girls were asked if anyone had hooked a steady honey ranged from hysteria to traumatic shock. However, there are a few lucky souls around St. Mary's:

Abbey Miller pinned to Bill Brodeaux, UNC.

Valeta Sledge pinned to Chris Jenkins, Pi Kappa Phi.

Courtney Cochran lavaliered to Jim Chapin, USC.

Anne Freeman lavaliered to Eddie Jones, Clemson.

Ellen Blythe lavaliered to Richard Archer, Sigma Nu, NCSU.

Diana Thomas lavaliered to Rip McAdams, Sigma Nu, NCSU.
