

SMC Golf Day Fun For All

by Kathryn Scott

The Annual St. Mary's Golf Tournament got off to a rousing start as 80 girls participated on April 8. The golfers left St. Mary's at 10:00 Monday morning for Northridge Country Club where they first attended a golf clinic directed by Joe Inman, runner-up in the Greater Greensboro Open this year, and Peggy Kirk Bell.

Bag lunches were distributed before the starting times. Nine-hole and 18-hole players teed off around 1:00, shortly before the rains came. In spite of the pouring rain, many of the dedicated golfers and duffers continued to battle it out to the finish. Girls were seen speeding down fairways and splashing one another in mud puddles. Debby Eley was seen crawling around on the bank of a creek looking for her new Titleist ball. A few girls including GinGin Brogden, Sugar Cheshire, and Becky Clark raced around the golf course in chaos searching for the fourth hole which had been roped off the whole time!

During the latter part of the afternoon, drenched foursomes wandered into the locker room after their long, but amusing game, ready to play bridge. Later, Margaret McAlister, Sally Alsoon, and Jo Ann Nance seemed to think the "19th hole" a lot more fun than the first eighteen!

After the tournament, guests Peggy Kirk Bell, and Norman Sloan and his wife spoke at the seated dinner that night. Awards for various accomplishments were issued later. The greatest award seemed to be a day of free cuts for everyone. Anna DuBose was given a 1969 Impala, compliments of Bobby Murray Chevrolet, and a trophy for the lowest score on eighteen holes. Bonnie Bell was the 18-hole student runner-up. And Becky Clark proved to be an athlete, contrary to popular belief, by winning a brand new 10-speed bicycle for the lowest score on nine holes. Also, Jo Ann Nance was the nine-hole runner-up.

Other winners included Sally Lewis, an 18-hole player, with the longest drive, and Margie Spencer, with the longest drive on the nine-hole course. Mr. Nixon received two dinners at the Angus Barn for his devoted time and hard work in organizing the golf tournament.

On the lighter side, Susanne Owens beat our defending champion, Martha Kelly, with a high on nine holes at 132. And Dr. Pisani was the 18-hole faculty winner. Could it be because he was the only golfer still playing in the rain?

Yeah
Mus!

Senior Last Will and Testaments

I, Ellen Henson, leave many long hours and strained eyes to Chris Tooker who is taking my place in the darkroom. May her shutter finger become as tricky as mine.

I, Ellen Henson, also leave a lot of good luck and wishes to the new Senior Class President (who hasn't been elected yet) and hopes that the Class of '75 will have as much SMC spirit and togetherness as the fantastic Class of 1974.

I, Sarah Doster leave all of my knowledge of German for the next year to Susan Whit-

I, Margaret Stevens, leave the responsibility of deciding whether or not to print the streaking picture in the Belles to Gaye

I, Anna DuBose, leave my place on the Belt Line to Thalia Cooper. But I hope she won't need it as much as we did this year.

I, Anna DuBose, leave my greasy hair to Margaret McAlister even though she does not need much more of it.

I, Laura Grimes, leave the road to Appalachian State open to anyone, from now on I'll be here!

I, Laura, leave all the fun and of putting together the stagecoach to Kaye Carpenter. Also a bottle of aspirin and Ika-Seltzer.

I, Neal Johnson, leave to my Latin chum, Christy Cook, the beloved Sam Drucker who has brought us many laughs. And to Gary, Susan, Robin, Dell, Debbie and all of the other new counselors I leave the gray hairs that came from the job and all 15 social and honor board cases which came off my hall this year. Finally, to all my friends I leave an apartment key and an open invitation to come party next year in Chapel Hill.

I, Marcia Neely, leave to Martha Horton the late night visit to Krispy Kreme.

We, 1st Penick's counselors, head for Chapel Hill while their old flames head for the altar.

I, Sallie Little's roomie, wish she would leave . . . her room clean!

I, Susan Gotherman, leave my Hawaiian shirt, my fireman's hat, and my sweat pants to Thalia Cooper; my Flying Falcon to the junkman; Alan to whoever wants those late night calls; and Jim Suggs, may he R.I.P. . . . yes?

I, Anne Walden, mournfully leave to my Lamba-Chi — a Lamba-Chi.

I, Josie Rawl, hate to leave behind — Sallie Shuping, the best Little Sister ever! Do you know who your Little Sister was?

Tennis Pros?

by Jeanne Watford

On April 5-7 Bonnie Ford and Gail Goforth represented St. Mary's College at the NCAA Tennis Championship hosted by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. All colleges in the AIAW were represented.

Cindy Johnson, a nationally ranked player representing Duke University, won the singles title after defeating Beth Hamilton from UNC. Jane Prior and Beth Hamilton won the double title securing the team trophy for UNC-Chapel Hill.

When asked about the tournament results, Miss Lou Jones commented, "Our strong point this year was our high school players, but they were unable to compete in this college event. I feel that St. Mary's was well represented by Bonnie and Gail. They were able to win their first round singles and doubles."

After her final match, Gail commented on the value of this competition. "It taught me that I really need to play and get more experience. Quick footwork is a key to winning." Bonnie also said that she "learned a lot watching the more experienced players." She jokingly added, "In two years I plan to be number one in the nation!" Also occurring during the tournament was a meeting of the college coaches. The 1974 Fall tennis schedule for St. Mary's will consist of fourteen matches including one with Duke and one with UNC.

Sigma-Mus Fight It Out

by Cathy Martin

The Sigma-Mu Club has been conducting a tournament over the last few months between the Sigma team and the Mu team in all intramural sports. The purpose of this competition is to decide who will win the Sigma-Mu plaque at the end of the year. Competition in tennis, volleyball, badminton and basketball has been played by the members of both teams. The winner of two out of three games in each sport becomes the winner of the particular sport. The badminton tournament was won by the Sigma team, while the Mu team won the basketball, volleyball and tennis tournament. Congratulations goes to all of the girls for their victories, and thanks goes to everyone who participated in the tournaments. The recently-played bridge and ping-pong tournaments were the deciding factors for the winner of the Sigma-Mu plaque at the end of the year. Thanks goes to everyone who has made these tournaments such a large success and such enjoyment for everyone.

I, Eugenia Owsley, leave the swimming pool to the future Sea Saints and anyone who likes dry skin.

I, Terry Fulghum, leave . . . finally, 1. to Christy Murphy my wonderful ability to get along with teachers and Social Board. 2. to Bonnie Bell, my lazy study habits and ability to get by with nothing. 3. to Julie Walker, part of me. 4. to Susan Crona, my old plane tickets to Pensacola — all twelve of them! 5. and to all the new 2nd Penick girls, my old cards and my winning streakin Hearts, Spades, Pinocle, and Sargent-Major.

We, 3rd Penick, leave with an unsurpassable number of diamonds and engagements, not to mention the could be's and will be's.

I, Margaret Williams, leave the Holt attic to Julie Walker and Allison Kerr for studying. We did well up there, didn't we? Also Allison, take care of that sunshine. She is something special.

I, Margaret Williams, leave to Trudy Glass the pleasure of getting dates for Sigma Chi. Trudy, I'm sure Suzzane Jeffreys will be glad to help. Have fun!

We, Lynn Jones and Libba Barbour, leave our big eyes, open ears and uncanny ability to find the scoop to Mary Dombalis and Miriam Fletcher in hopes that they will have as much fun and be as successful as we were.

I, Stacy Curran, leave to my fellow Jersey yank Christy Murphy all the hassle I get about my correct form of speech and diction, especially with the expression "you guys."

I, Stacy Curran, leave to the intellectuals of 2nd East Cruik my struggling effort to get off A. P. and to little Buns Bonnie Bell my rewarding blind dates.

I, Tish Detgen, leave this beautiful "golden jail" with many, Many "thanks for the memories."

I, Louise Wortham, leave my concert laundry room piano to whoever has the nerve, stamina, and drive to play it.

We, Amy Phillips and Karen Strange, leave Jan Morgan a diamond and the ability to play cards.

I, Lane Turner, lacking in sound mind and definitely sound body, leave all my deepest sympathy to Margaret McAlister and I hope that she never realizes what she's gotten into until she leaves office!

I, Lane Turner, leave my dirty walls in Smedes to Miriam Fletcher with a dozen rags, comet and a pail of water and sincerely hope she does a good job of cleaning them.

We, Lane Turner, Bolling Quicke and Melrose Whitfield, leave all the little rooms in the library; FOREVER!

I, Lane Turner, leave all my misspelled words to Anne Culley.

I, Betsy Newman, hereby leave to those "in need," my Sunsweet Prune Juice and All-Bran and . . . Feenamint, if you have a bad case.

We, Sukoshi Williamson and Melrose Whitfield leave our "branching" ability to the tree.

We, Sukoshi Williamson and Melrose Whitfield leave our love and spirit for SMC to our hall — to carry it on.

Susan Byers, Anna DuBose, and Melrose Whitfield leaves our warm places on the bench to Martha Kelly.

I, Melrose Whitfield leave my Busy Do Not Disturb sign to Martha Kelly to be put to use next year.

I, Karen Rose, being of partially sound mind and body, hereby will to Little Sister, Susan Smith, my stupendous study habits; and to next year's Drama Club and St. Genesis members, some of the happiest memories of my life.

I, Carolyn Bishop, leave St. Mary's all nighters to the Holiday Inn operators.
