

Typing Course Offered

Mrs. Patricia Brame, of Dean Miller's office, will be offering a typing course to those girls who are interested. The course will meet twice a week, each class lasting an hour, for six weeks at $50.00 a session.

In this class each girl will learn how to type term papers, resumes and themes. Typing is a vital skill which each girl should know, or at least be exposed to.

All interested girls should please fill out the form which was put in your mailboxes on Sept. 18 and return to Mrs. Brame. The course will also be offered next semester - so please fill out the forms and return to Mrs. Brame! (Even if you don't own a typewriter, one can be easily rented.)

New Sea Saints Chosen

The Sea Saints are a group of young women who get together to have a good time performing water ballet. Only two Sea Saints, Ann Gilbert and Mary Hughes Boylin, remain from last year's team. These two girls, along with Coach Sandy Sappenfield, conducted tryouts in which eleven new Sea Saints were chosen for 1979-80: Ann Gilbert, Mary Hughes Boylin, Mary Hunter Martin, Sallie Harris, Nancy Lyday, Laurie Whitcomb, Blanche Gregory, Ann Fowler, Katie Zevenhuisen, Becky Holmes, Cathy Gorham, Elsie Holloman, and Louise Johnson.

All the Sea Saints are looking forward to a fun year in the water. They hope that everyone will support them in their performances throughout the year.

The Cold Cuts

Overnight Privileges Changed

When the seniors returned to school this year, they were prepared for those long Chapel Hill weekends. These weekends were cut short, however, by the announcement that Thursday and Sunday overnights were a thing of the past.

President Rice and Dean Miller made this decision, which they felt to be in the academic interest of the students. Since the seniors had a different attitude, a meeting was held between President Rice and the Senior Class. After each side aired its views, President Rice suggested that a compromise would be possible.

Following a great deal of discussion, the Senior Class decided to submit two petitions to President Rice and the Legislative Body. One petition asked for self-determining hours on Thursday nights, and the other called for a limited number of Thursday overnights and extended Thursday night curfews. Although neither petition was totally accepted, a compromise was reached. Seniors are now allowed self-determining hours on Thursday nights provided they maintain a 2.0 QPR and have parental permission.

The Original Seven Perform

September 13 marked the first performance of the 1979-1980 Cold Cuts. They played in the Talent Show. Their next appearance will be during Parents' Weekend.

The "original seven" were chosen at the end of last year. The girls and their instruments are: Valerie Van Pelt - maracas, Tricia McLean - hotdog, Lisa Moye - bongos, Mary Keehlen Simmons - sticks, Dee Ann Frazier - piano, Kim Zollicoffer - crazy stick, and Jeanne Marie Nelli - tub.

Valerie Van Pelt, the president, says that the future plans of the Cold Cuts will include playing for civic groups, fraternity parties, the Governor Morehead School, and possibly the Jolly Knave at Atlantic Beach sometime next spring.

The next inductions for new Cold Cuts will be during the first week of October.

Fifty-third Debutante Ball Held

September sixth, seventh, and eighth was a big weekend for many girls here at St. Mary's. The occasion was The Debutante Ball, sponsored by the Terpsichorean Club of North Carolina.

The Ball had its beginning as "The Raleigh Fall Festival" in 1923, sponsored by all the merchants of Raleigh. Prominent girls from throughout the State were presented as candidates for Queen of the Festival. The event was climaxed by the crowning of the Queen by the Governor of the State.

The Terpsichorean Club derives its name from the Greek mythological muse Terpsichore, the goddess of dancing and choral song. The purpose of the club is to sponsor annually a Ball for the presentation of North Carolina Debutantes in Raleigh on the first weekend after Labor Day."

Honor Week Held Sept. 24-27

Honor Week, held September 24 through September 27, is a week set aside every year to emphasize the importance of honor at St. Mary's, and also to point out the significance of honor outside the St. Mary's community.

Special events are held during this week: an assembly, Monday, September 24, with guest speakers discussing the meaning of honor; Honor Chapel (formal dress), Tuesday, September 25, with hall discussions afterwards so that students may ask questions concerning the honor code at St. Mary's; and, finally, a reception in front of Smedes, Thursday, September 26. Attendance at all these events is required.

It is hoped that this special Honor's Week will help to make the honor code mean more to the students, teachers, and staff of St. Mary's College.
