What is a Deb?

By Katherine Jordan

The 63rd annual North Carolina Debutant ball was held September 8, 1989 at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium. The ball is sponsored every year by the Terpsichorean Club of Raleigh. Twenty-one of our Saint Mary's College students were invited.

The origin of the ball began in 1923. The families thought there was a need to provide a more lively social life for the young people who came home at Christmas, and it provided a gracious way for parents to formally introduce their daughters to their adult friends.

On the night of this year's ball, 254 girls made their debut. The spotlight in her gloves (

(chief marshal) walked carefully across the auditorium to their place. It took three hours for all the girls to be announced. The fathers then danced with their daughters. The finale of the ball was forming the traditional figure of a cartwheel out of ribbon. September 8, 1989 was a glorious and exciting evening.

The twenty-one SMC girls who were invited from all over North Carolina are: Olivia Adams, Katherine Allen, Barbara Bryant, Holly Byrum, Flossie Dossenbach, Natalie Gaskins, Pat Gillam, Kimball Harris, Jamie Johnson, Heather Moore, Gay Parker, Blanche Slade, Ali Tew, K.T. The Stones Give Raleigh "Satisfaction"

By Jennifer Legen

Does $3.00 sound like a good deal for a Rolling Stones ticket? That's what 700 people paid in New Haven, Connecticut, expecting a night of entertainment from a local band only to be surprised by The Rolling Stones opening their tour. The only complaint of the evening came from the club owner who ran out of beer.

On September 16 the band stopped in Raleigh and electrified the stage in Carter-Finley Stadium. At 8:00 p.m. promptly The Stones exploded onto the stage with "Start Me Up." One of the main attractions of the evenir were the 55-foot inflatable wome that swayed back and forth to the beat of "Honky Tonk Women People of all ages were mesme ized by the body language ar the music of a band that refuse to grow old. Two hours and a minutes later, 65,000 far experienced total "Satisfaction that they will vividly remember f the rest of their lives.

By Jennifer Culberson Honor week was a week that should have meant a lot to students here at Saint Mary's. It was a week set aside to think about exactly what the honor code means to you. The highlights of honor week were the assembly and the chapel. The assembly gave us all a look at how the Judicial Board works. The chap was a special time for all of the students to be together to thil about the honor code. We ca only hope Honor week helped all to reevaluate our morals al think about what it means whe we write, "I pledge that I ha neither given nor received he on this test."
