My Heavenly Home.

O, to a home I long to go,
Where there's no pain nor woe;
A home where all is ever love,
In sweet, sweet heaven above

May God ever help me to be From all my sins set free.
When from this earth I'm called to go,
May I be white as snow.

Help me to live a better life
While on this earth I roam—
Keep me ever from sin and strife, Oh! then receive me home.

Oh, might we all unite to join
The chorus of the sky,
And live forever with the throng
Of the sweet bye and bye.

For there are some who've gone before
To live with Jesus there,— Then may we all be truly sure
To meet them over there.

Although they've beat us in the race,
They've trod the heavenly road—
Yes, saved by his wonderful grace
That leads to home and God.
Loula Blackburn.

In Memory.

It is with a sad heart that we note the death of one we loved, viz.: Little May Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas Greer, but with humble submission to God we say, "Thy will be done." She was born September 2nd 1900, and fell asleep April 28th 1903—age 2 years 7 months and 27 days. She was a bright and sweet little girl, and was loved by all who knew her. She was full of life, and an innocent little girl. She was sick eighteen days and bore her suffering with much patience. They had a good physician, but he did her no good. She leaves a dear father and mother and relatives to mourn their loss. Rev. W. K. Greer conducted the burial services at the grave.

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.

A place in her home is vacant now
Which never can be filled.
She is gone but not forgotten—
She is still in our memory.

Louellen Haire.

FROM FLEETWOOD.

Dear Brother Editor:—I would fail if I were to try to express to you my appreciation of the Blue Ridge Baptist—of the life and vigor it gives to our people. I wish I was able to continue the encouragement.

We are just what our motives are.
Everything in life depends upon the motives from which it springs. We are no better nor worse than our motives. The highest and purest motive is that of doing all for the Lord.
Therefore, the soul that would eat bread must do it with pains, perseverance and patience. Despondence is the worst of all to the christian.
It is well to keep a clear look-out for what is still ahead. The glory of every true life is in the time to come. God has never yet exhausted himself in richness of splendid radiance to his waiting people. There is that in the distance which eye hath not seen nor ear heard; and wise men may well think of readiness to make the great journey and meet the revelation. We ought to learn to estimate results and forget process. It is not necessary to talk continually about faded flowers and departed joys and thwarted hopes. It is wise to let the dead past bury its dead.

May God increase our zeal and energy for his cause in the future.

Yours for the Baptist,

P. H. Haire.
