Mars Hill Defeats Hiwassee Seven to Six

Edwards, Isenberg, and Suggs Star Against Aggressive Visitors.

Mars Hill College defeated Hiwassee College, Saturday afternoon, November 13, on the Mars Hill gridiron, 7 to 6.

The game was the best ever seen on the Mars Hill gridiron. Both teams were in first class condition and were fighting for every inch of ground they gained. The game was clean throughout.

Edwards was the most consistent round gainer of the game. Time after time his body and flying legs disappeared in a mass of humanity only to appear somewhere beyond the line of scrimmage. Only an undomitable spirit and an iron will carried Edwards through the whole game. His plowing the line gained for Mars Hill a total of 112 yards.

Suggs' kicking was a feature of the game. Although his punts were not up to the average, he outkicked the Hiwassee back. His kick-offs were some of the best ever witnessed on the Mars Hill field.

Captain Carter was the pep and backbone of the team. At all times he had a word of encouragement and a slap on the back for the boys. Captain Carter keeps the pep and the morale of the team to the highest pitch. Well can it be said, "He's a wonder, he's a dream, he's the captain of our team."

Isenberg and Tripp wagged the team well at quarterback. Without a clear head to direct it, no team can make a showing as our boys did in the Hiwassee game.

Joyner played an excellent defensive game. His tackling and blocking deserve credit. The linemen deserve as much praise as anyone else. They opened up holes for our backs and stopped the rushes of the other team. Stone and Dockery at tackles and Glasgow and Baber at guards deserve all the praise that can be given them.

The ends, Moore, Lanford, and Mathewson, deserve equal credit for their tackling and breaking into the Hiwassee backfield.

The Game.

Mars Hill kicked off to Hiwassee who made two first downs. Mars Hill stopped this and started a drive down the field which Hiwassee stopped. The greater part of the first quarter was a punting duel between Jones of Hiwassee and "Little Willie" of Mars Hill. The quarter ended with the score 0-0. The second quarter opened with renewed vigor and pep on the part of both teams. Mars Hill made a steady march to Hiwassee's 5-yard line where they were abruptly halted. Hiwassee punted to Mars Hill. Mars Hill ran two plays and Suggs tried a place kick which fell short by a few yards. The half ended 0-0.

Hiwassee Scores.

The third quarter saw both teams trying to score. The ball was on Mars Hill's 40-yard line. Dockett passed to Jones, directly over center, who raced for a touchdown. Both teams were off side and the point did not count. This decision was contested later and Hiwassee was given a chance to make the point after the game. They failed.

ARMISTICE OBSERVED AT CHAPEL PERIOD

Dr. Mangum Delivers First of Series of Lectures.

The chapel exercises given on Armistice Day was exceedingly effective and appropriate. Each number was excellently rendered and aroused to a high pitch our enthusiasm.

The following program was given: "Americans Come," by Foster, was sung by Miss Elma Fleetwood. "The Fool," by Robert W. Servie, was read by Miss Wingret. A mixed quartette, composed of Mrs. Stringfield, Miss Elma Fleetwood, Mr. Lee, and Mr. Mullinax, sang "To Thee, O Country," by Eichberg. Following these numbers Dean Carr recognized those, both in the faculty and the student body, who served in the Great War. Those serving over-seas were: R. T. Baker, Mr. Trentham, Lorraine Hamilton, and Dean Carr; those serving on this side were: Mr. Lineberry, Mr. Lee, Mr. McLeod, Coach Roberts, Charles Roper, Otis McGinnis, and Frank Leatherwood.

Mr. Mangum, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Marion, N. C., who also served over-seas, began the series of lectures that he was to deliver to the student body by speaking on "The Glory That Was Greece." Later in his lectures Mr. Mangum spoke to the European History Classes on such interesting topics as "Paris" and "Rome." His lectures were all thoroughly enjoyed by the students and faculty. He will always receive a hearty welcome at Mars Hill.

B. Y. P. U. STUDY COURSE NEXT WEEK

Competent Faculty and Wide Interest Call for Record Attendance.

The B. Y. P. U. Study Course week to which we have been looking forward all the year is now here! It is with great pleasure that we welcome the members of the study course faculty to our campus; never before have we been so fortunate in securing such an able faculty. The students of Mars Hill have the privilege of hearing the most outstanding B. Y. P. U. workers of the South this week. Mr. Perry Morgan, our State Secretary who needs no introduction to the students of Mars Hill, is teaching General B. Y. P. U. Organization. Mr. Morgan is one of the outstanding workers in the field of B. Y. P. U. in the South.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. Manual is being taught by Mr. Ed Preston, who is also a very enthusiastic and competent worker and always brings us something new and full of "pep" in the line of B. Y. P. U. work.

Miss Winnie Rickett, whom we all learned to love in the few days she spent with us last year, is teaching The Junior and Intermediate B. Y. P. U. Manual. Miss Rickett is very welcome among us.

Mrs. W. A. Crawley, of Tennessee, is teaching here also.

This is Mrs. Crawley's first visit to Mars Hill, but she has brought with her a high recommendation, and we hope that she is finding her stay with us very pleasant.

Also, Mars Hill students are having the privilege of hearing Mr. Frank H. Leavell. This is the only school in this state that Mr. Leavell has favored so highly. He is teaching Training in Stewardship, a book of which he is himself the author. Mr. Leavell is one of the nine noted Leavell brothers who are well known in the Southern Baptist Convention; he hails from Mississippi. Among his brothers are: Dr. George Leavell, of Mississippi, Dr. James Leavell, pastor of the largest church of Houston, Texas, and Dr. Langrum Leavell, the noted editor of the B. Y. P. U. Quarterly. We wish that we had the opportunity of knowing them all. Mr. Frank Leavell has headquarters at Memphis, Tennessee, and is manager of the Baptist Student Movement and the periodical of the South Wide Student Movement to which the students have responded marvelously, not only in our Baptist Schools, but also in our State Schools. He sees things from a student's point of view, and the students love him. He has grasped the big problem that instead of educating the student away from the church and Christianity that the central motivation is to educate them to and in the church. His coming to our campus is helping the students with their problems and helping them to live up to the motto, "Christ Master of Our Generation." It is with affectionate regard that we have Mr. Leavell with us; it is a favor to which we have been looking for a long time.

Nonpareils Celebrate Their Thirty-Fifth Anniversary

Saturday night, November 20, at 7 o'clock the Nonpareil Literary Society of Mars Hill College celebrated its thirty-fifth anniversary in the college auditorium.

A large crowd attended the program which for some time had been looked forward to with great interest. The stage was effectively decorated with the Society colors which are black and gold. A large cake having thirty-five lighted candles gave an anniversary touch.

Mars Hill, represented by Sara Lacy, entered first. Then to the strains of the Nonpareil Song, played by the Eunoia orchestra, the president, Mary E. Carter, entered followed by eighty-five members attractively dressed in the colors of the Society. After the president's address the Nonpareil song was sung by the Society. The program which followed was one of the best given at Mars Hill this year.

The program is as follows:

"E" UNION WINS THE MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Hats off to "E" Union! Sometime ago a membership campaign was launched and the union which gained the largest number of new members was to be declared winner.

Every union put forth every effort to win and at the same time to bring new members into the B. Y. P. U. All were anxious to see who would win this coveted honor, but towards the last it became evident that "E" would be the victor. When one looks at the following efficient officers this union has, he is not at all surprised that they won.

President, Paul Brown; Vice President, Laxton Hamrick; Secretary, Gage Morrow; Corresponding Secretary, Ruth Barrs; Treasurer, Barbara Freeman; Group Captains: H. C. Parker, Audrey Byrd, Harold Deaton, and Madeline May.

Congratulations, "E" Union.

SENIORS ENJOY GROVE PARK CONCERT

Following the senior tradition, on Sunday night seven chauffeurs and thirty-seven students, sufficiently interspersed with chaperones, sardined into seven cars and freighted off to Grove Park Inn to attend the splendid concert rendered by Mr. Ben J. Potter, the Inn's organist.

Mr. Potter is noted for his excellent talent, being a fellow of the Guild of St. Cecilia, fellow of the Church Organists' Society, and associate of the Royal College of Organists, London. The concert consisted of the following:

- Serenade ..... Schubert
- Allegretto with Choral... Mendelssohn
- "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water" ..... Cadman
- Love Scene from "Lohengrin" Wagner
- Moment Musical..... Schubert
- Air from "Rinaldo"..... Handel
- Grand March ("Queen of Sheba")
- ..... Gounod
- Evensong ..... Johnstone

Owing to the fact that reservations had not been made, it was purely by accident that the company was admitted. While Mr. Canup, the manager of the trip, was interviewing the proprietor, the porter, thinking us the group whom he was waiting for, invited us in. After we were in and comfortably seated, he discovered his mistake, but it was too late.

When the concert had ended and the gentlemen had secured their coats and hats and sufficiently tipped the porter, the return trip began.

At eleven o'clock the peaceful slumbers of the occupants of Spillman and Rivermont were disturbed by the melancholy goodnights occasioned by the approach to "no man's land."

DR. JOHNSON'S NEW BOOK OFF THE PRESS "Stewardship Vitalized" to Have Far-reaching Influence Is Opinion.

Mars Hill folk were delighted to find on the librarian's desk last week an attractive new book by our own Dr. Walt N. Johnson. This book, "Stewardship Vitalized," published by the Sunday School Board, is a beautifully bound volume of 231 pages and treats perhaps the most vital problem before the people of the South. Dr. W. J. McGlothlin in his introduction says: "One cannot read these pages without an instinctive feeling that the author is right... This book is one of the strongest which has yet appeared on the great theme involved, and should have a wide reading. Wherever it is carefully perused its blessings will be abundant."
