Ambitious Schedule Facing Basketball Squad on the Hill

Southeastern Tournament Held in Asheville Again This Year.

This season the ambitious mountain team will take on teams of a caliber not often surpassed in the South. Coach Roberts says that it is the hardest schedule ever attempted by the Mars Hill team. The line-up of the team includes such teams as Wofford, Lenoir Rhyne, Catawba, Tusculum, or Teachers, and other strong teams. About the sixth of March the Southeastern Basketball Championship Tournament is held. This year it is again at Asheville. The Mars Hill team, which was Southern Junior Champs of last year, is expected to again put on a strong aggregation on the floor; the Lions are showing a pre-season strength that will be hard to beat. Last year the Roberts aggregation are going around the hope of repeating that performance again this year. The material this year is good. At the time of the practice the team that ran most consistently and with the greatest accuracy consisted of West at center, Buckner and Jordan running the forward position, and Jim and Andy Albritton covering the guard territory. The team has developed an accurate shooting for the basket and has been leading a stiff pace for the last few weeks. The Asheville All-Stars, a team of no small record, is to be met on the local floor next Tuesday evening as the opener of the hardwood season. It is the only game before the Christmas holidays.

The schedule announced is as follows:

- Dec. 17—Asheville, here.
- Jan. 11—Buncombe County Junior College, here.
- Jan. 18—Asheville Junior College, here.
- Jan. 25—Oak Ridge, here.
- Jan. 27—Wofford, at Wofford.
- Jan. 28—Carolina Textile Institute, there.
- Jan. 29—Boiling Springs, there.
- Jan. 30—Rutherford College, there.
- Jan. 31—Oak Ridge, there.
- Feb. 1—Catawba College, there.
- Feb. 6—Rutherford College, here.
- Feb. 8—Lenoir Rhyne College, there.
- Feb. 11—Buncombe County Junior College, there.
- Feb. 13—Catawba College, here.
- Feb. 15—Boiling Springs, here.
- Feb. 18—Asheville Junior College, there.
- Feb. 20, 21, 22—W. N. C. H. S. Tournament, here.
- Feb. 27—Tusculum or Tennessee Teachers, here.
- March 1—Tusculum or Tennessee Teachers, there.
- March 6, 7, 8—Southeastern Tournament, Asheville.

It was good to see the Albritton boys disport themselves in the basketball tilt with the All Stars. Their activities showed that they will be valuable factors in Mars Hill's games this season.

Mars Hill Quint Captures Opening Tilt

Asheville All-Stars Fall Before Collegians 32-20.

The Lions won their opening basketball game of the year by defeating the Asheville All-Stars here Tuesday night to the tune of 32-20.

Buckner led both teams in scoring with 14 points to his credit. Thompson scored 10 for the All-Stars. Yet the impressive part of the first victory was the guarding of the Albritton brothers. Not a single field goal was rung up in the first half by the opposing five.

The boys did not have to extend themselves in the opening encounter and they looked slow. The majority of the time there was long and wide passing. In two or three more games the boys should be in great shape.

The floor work of West and Jordan stood out a great part of the time.

Line-up:
 Mars Hill. All-Stars
 Buckner (14) F. Morris (4)
 Jordan (8) F. Thompson (10)
 West (4) C. DeBruhl
 A. Albritton (5) G. Hall (1)
 J. Albritton G. A. Rickman (5)
 Referee: Matthews (U. N. C.)

JOKES

Little Brother: "Why do you keep a lion at the junior high school?"

Older Brother: "Why do you ask such a question?"

Little Brother: "Well, sometimes when I call you at school, the lady in the Information Bureau says, 'The lion's busy.'"

Cook to little Willie: "Willie, will you go to the store and get a pound of 'Snow Drift' for me?"

Willie: "But this is only August."

Mother: "Johnnie, dear, why don't you let your little playmate ride your bicycle?"

Johnnie: "Oh, I do, mother. You see, she rides the bike up-hill and I ride it down."

THE END

Sign on Chemistry door of the laboratory: "Your clothes eaten off while you wait."

"This match won't light."
 "Washa madda with it?"
 "I dunno; it lit all right a minute ago."

Freshman: "Professor, I can't go to class today."

Prof.: "Why?"

Fresh.: "I don't feel well."

Prof.: "Where don't you feel well?"

Fresh.: "In class."

A Christmas Message

Christmas is the season when all hearts are filled with gayety and joy. This is as it should be, but in our rejoicing we should not lose sight of the fact that we are celebrating the birthday of One who came into the world to teach mankind charity and unselfish love for their neighbors. Family gatherings in the old home and the exchange of gifts between friends are beautiful customs which should be preserved; however, the true spirit of Christmas can best be expressed by making the holiday season one of gladness for everybody. Let us strive for this year to bring happiness to those less joyous and less fortunate than we are.

WHAT OF THE INTERIM?
 January 2 we'll all be back at our studies, after having spent the holiday season at home. Then will begin the "wind-up" of the year's scholastic endeavors. For many it will be a nip-and tuck battle to make the grade. In many instances, they will be the ones who, during the holiday season, give themselves over altogether to the pastimes of the season, and overlook the classroom and its requirements. If the mind is willing, and the spirit moves in the right direction, students will employ part of the time to keep up, or catch up, with their studies. Enough said.

Well, folks, it's almost time for me to make my annual call and bring happiness and joy to the hearts of your kiddies.

Last Christmas, the hearts of little children all over the world were swelling with joy because Santa had visited their homes and left so many wonderful things for them. But many of these little hearts will be sad this year, for Daddy was taken away and there isn't enough money to pay Santa's expenses now.

Each year takes its toll of Daddies, and each Christmas there is sadness in many homes where there had always been joy. But now the Yuletide happiness of your little tots can be guaranteed through an IMPERIAL SANTA CLAUS CONTRACT, which provides for the regular annual visit of Kris Kringle. You can secure full details of this contract from the
