MARS HILL WINS TITIAL GAME ON AD INVASION

Lions took a tough affair from Rutherford College outfit, 26, on a foreign court, Tuesday night.

It was the first game played by Mars Hill away from home this season, and they showed up in fine form.

Due to strict refereeing, the first half was a long-drawn-out affair. This time, however, the Lions put up a formidable score of 21 to 10. Camnitz ran wild to score 10 points in this half, while his teammates scored the other end of the score.

The second half was a fast and furious contest. Camnitz, Dale, and Price fouled out at the very beginning of this period; and the Rutherford lads crept up to within three points of the visitors, the score being 26 in favor of the Lions. At this point, however, Mars Hill rallied and scored five more points to clinch the battle, 34 to 26.

Every man on the trip saw action in Mars Hill in this game. Camnitz, who scored, Dale, and Hendricks were all who played from the game via the person-to-person route. Fox, Dale, and Camnitz were the high-lights in the victory.

The line-up:
Mars Hill Rutherford—26
Hendricks RF Evans 6
Leeper LF Combs
Fox RG Bumgardner 3
Dale LG Mock 2
Substitutions: Mars Hill—Coffee 2, Price 1, Albritton; Rutherford—Bronson 3, J. Bumgardner 1, Randall. Referee: Overcash of Rhyne.

PHYSICIAN BOW TO BELMONT ABBEY

First Defeat of Season for Roberts' Men.

Here last Friday night the Mountain Lions met their first defeat of the season when they stacked up against the fast Belmont-Abbey aggregation, with the score of 34 to 24.

The Lions appeared to be off color and were never able to offset the lead set up by the smoothly running outfit from Gaston county. Camnitz was the high scorer of the team with 12 points to his credit. Leeper also turned in a nice performance, while Fox played his usual stellar game. The loss of "Red" Sanders was sorely felt by the Lions.

The line-up:
Mars Hill Belmont-Abbey 35
Leeper F Diamond 10
Coffey F Frierson 8
Fox C Murphy 7
Camnitz G Dorris 2
Dale G Campbell 8
Substitutions: Mars Hill—Hendricks, Price 1, Albritton.

INTRAMURAL GAMES GET UNDER WAY

The intramural games are under way with a total of five contests having been played at the time of this writing.

The C-1 team has the best record so far, with two victories, while the Phi Eus have presented strong aggregations in their one appearance. The Phi Eus and Town Boys are tied up for far honors, while the dormitory teams haven't swung into action yet.

The scores:
Jan. 13—C-1 (26) vs. A-4 (15)
Jan. 15—C-1 (18) vs. C-2 (14)
Jan. 16—Eu (14) vs. Town (12)
Jan. 20—C-2 (17) vs. A-4 (11)
Jan. 27—Phi (26) vs. Town (6)

The League Standing:

C-1 1 0 1.000
C-2 1 0 1.000
Eu 1 1 .500
A-4 0 2 .000
Town 0 2 .000

HENDRICKS' HARDWOOD POINTS

The Lions had their winning streak broken on last Friday night when Belmont-Abbey downed them 35-24. It is always hard to lose the first game; but stick in there and fight 'em!

The team certainly suffered a great loss when they lost "Red" Sanders. "Red" was looking good in there, and we all hated to see him leave school. Good luck, Red!

This man Camnitz has been a mainstay on the team so far this season. He has a very accurate eye for that old basket and can shoot 'em when they are needed. He has averaged ten points a game so far this season.

The Lions took the opening fracas on the road trip; they downed Rutherford College in a hard-fought game by the score of 34-26. Every man on the squad showed up well, and we are proud of them all.

The five-day road spree of the Lions will give them plenty of action. They have a hard schedule and will do extra well to break even. During the jaunt the locals will tackle the following quintets: Rutherford College, Boiling Springs, Belmont-Abbey, Wofford Frosh, and Textile.

There is one man on that Mars Hill team who should have mention—no other than that hard-working and brilliant center, Andy Fox. This boy plays the same steady game at all times; he is all over the court and is always fighting. Andy, you have been a great help to the team and we are proud of you.

It looks like Ole 'Bama is bound for another Southern Conference basketball cup. They have played some good teams and have showed up well.

Everybody wish that team luck on the road trip. It's gonna be a strenuous week. So long. "Hot."

Team Loses "Red" Sanders

The hopes of the basketball quintet have received a great setback, due to the loss of "Red" Sanders, flashy little forward, who is leaving school. "Little Red" was one of the main cogs in the victories ran up by the Mountain Lions in their first four encounters. He was high scorer in two games, having bagged 12 points in his last appearance for the Blue-and-Gold against Carolina Textile Institute. A fast floor man and capable of shooting from any position, he would have been an asset on any team. Not only the team but the student body mourns the loss of "Red" Sanders, and he is leaving a gap that will be hard to fill.

The team wasn't quite up to par the other night against Belmont-Abbey; maybe it was because "Red" Sanders was not in there. Anyway, the Lions were not playing their best brand of basketball. We hope that on their road trip they will find their winning stride and bring back a long string of impressive victories.

Albritton, who has been on the bench for the past several games, broke into the fray against Belmont-Abbey and played a fine defensive game.

Leeper, rookie forward, who is getting into a lot of action lately, is showing some real promise as a basketball player; and before the season is over he should in some way atone for the loss of "Red" Sanders.

The team left Tuesday for a week's trip through North and South Carolina. Five games are scheduled with the following teams: Rutherford College, Boiling Springs, Belmont-Abbey, Wofford Frosh, and Carolina Textile Institute. The following men made the trip: Hendricks, Leeper, Fox, Coffee, Camnitz, Dale, Price, Goforth, and Allison. The veteran Albritton was unable to make the trip because of illness.

MOUNTAIN LIONS WIN OVER FAST TEXTILES TEAM

"Red" Sanders Leads Team by Scoring 14 Points.

Led by the diminutive "Red" Sanders, the Mountain Lions, fighting an uphill battle, came from behind in the second half to defeat the strong Carolina Textile Institute here, January 17, by the score of 27 to 22.

The game was a close struggle from the opening whistle. Coach Roberts started his second string against the Textile men but ran in the first string at the quarter when the Lions began to lag behind.

During the second quarter the first string had some difficulty in finding the basket and the half ended with the Lions on the short end of a 15-to-9 score.

The second half found the Lions breaking loose to take the lead. Sanders looped 'em from all over the court to give the Roberts men an edge; but the men from Spartanburg sank several in succession to again threaten the lead. During the closing minutes the Lions put the game on ice and were leading 27 to 22 when the final whistle blew.

Sanders, playing his last game of the season in the Blue-and-Gold uniform, was the main factor in the victory, with 14 points. The floor work of Fox and Dale was exceptionally good, while Camnitz and Leeper also turned in some nice work.

This was the fifth victory for the Lions in as many starts.

The line-up:
27 Mars Hill Textile Institute 22
2 Price F West 8
Hendricks F Ray 7
2 Bostic C Moonhan 3
Albritton G Jackson 2
Coffee G Byrd 2
Substitutions: Mars Hill—Sanders 14, Leeper 2, Fox 4, Camnitz 2, Dale 1.; Textile Institute—Bryant.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

At Lenoir Rhyne a unique method is being installed to make it more dangerous for students to cheat on examinations. Of course, the usual policy of asking the student to sign a pledge of honesty is used, but in addition, the Y. W. C. A. has proposed what is known as a tapping system. In this system, when a person sees another person cheating, he taps three times upon his desk. If the person continues to receive unfair aid, the taps are repeated. After the class is over the guilty individual is visited and if he is not willing to promise not to do it again, he is brought before the students for them to take such action as they desire.

Atlantic Christian College does not plan to continue football for at least a period of two years.

Many outstanding alterations have been made in the social privileges permitted the students of Brenau College as a result of a petition submitted to the executive committee by the various classes. One of these reads: "Seniors by filing at the counselor's office shall be allowed to have dinner in town with gentlemen friends any week night and be on the campus by 8:30 o'clock." Another provides "that seniors shall be allowed to go to the show any afternoon with gentlemen friends."

Georgia School of Technology and Agnes Scott College for women were joint hosts for the Sixth Annual Congress of the National Student Federation of America which come to a close on January 17. At the Atlanta conference there were representatives present from more than 170 of the leading schools of the nation. E. R. Murrow was re-elected president of the organization.

Because of the failure of the Princeton fans to remain in the stands after the Princeton-Navy game, while the midshipmen sang their alma mater, the undergraduate council at Princeton University has sent a letter of apology to Admiral Samuel S. Robinson, superintendent of the naval academy, expressing regret for the discourtesy.—The Salemite.

The second edition of The Echo, the literary magazine of Furman, was recently presented to the students of that institution. A book review department and an exchange section make the publication even more enjoyable than it was under the former arrangement.

When Governor O. Max Gardner recommended in his speech to the state legislature that the salaries of all state employees be cut ten per cent, he caused quite a bit of discussion in the various departments. On the N. C. C. W. campus the motion was resented very vigorously by both the faculty and the student body because it would mean that the salaries of all instructors in all learned institutions of the state, private schools excepted, would be cut ten per cent. They maintain that they are willing as private citizens to bear their just share of state expenses, but that the cut would be detrimental to the welfare of the educational system.

I wish to acknowledge an exchange from the Leesonian, publication of Lees Junior College, a comparatively young college but one that appears to maintain such a high standard of decorum that when the traditions that are being formed at present are surveyed in future years, the patrons will not be ashamed of their alma mater. Recently the leadership of the institution was changed as a result of the death of its head, Professor Charles Augustine Leonard.

Wake Forest Honors Red Oak Boy In Taps

Is Former Mars Hill Student. Edward T. Harrell, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Harrell, of Red Oak, was signally honored last week upon being tapped into Golden Bough, the highest honor society on the Wake Forest College campus.

Golden Bough is composed of men who by popular vote among the students and faculty, seems to have the highest quality of character, scholarship, and leadership. Besides this distinction, Harrell this year has engaged himself in many phases of college life and is generally regarded as one of the best all around men on the campus. He is one of the Demon Deacon cheer-leaders, is president of the glee club, ex-president of the dramatic club and for two seasons has handled low bass on the college quartette. He negotiates low "C" with utmost ease, according to information sent out from the college town.

Dramatic Club Elects New Officers for 1931

The Dramatic Club met for a short business meeting, January 27th, at seven o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president. The nominating committee presented the following as officers for the coming semester: president, Sibyl Pace; vice-president, Wade Baker; secretary, Marguerite Green; reporter, Martha Stack; janitor, Bill McLester; assistant janitor, Florence Johnson.

The club accepted the report of the nominating committee. The retiring officers are: president, Bill McLester; vice-president, Florence Johnson; secretary, Sarah Fox; reporter, Elizabeth Corpening; janitor, Val Edwards.
