MARS HILL TIES RUTHERFORD IN THRILLING GRID BATTLE

Ends in 14-14 Deadlock; Son, Rutherford Quarter Star of Game; Whelp Line Plays Well.

Contest featured by sweeping line plays and smashing line plays, Mars Hill Lions and Rutherford battled to a 14 to 14 deadlock in the Memorial Stadium soil, Saturday.

Hill had a seven point lead at five minutes to play when Rabb, Rambler back, tossed a pass to Bronson, who skipped gaining 35 yards for a touch-down. A moment later Bronson dropped his second extra point of the move Rutherford up into a tie with the Lions.

Rutherford jumped into an early lead when a fumbled punt gave them a lead on Mars Hill's 11-yard line. Here Bronson carried the ball two plays and a moment later a perfect kick for the extra point.

Lions Even Count

Mountain Lions came back in second period to even the count. Nettle received a punt on Rutherford's 30-yard line, and from here and Fox, through line plays, the ball to the Ramblers' one-riple where Nettle drove over for the first Mars Hill marker. He made the extra point to tie the score when he stepped across the line to place kick formation which neatly fooled the Rutherford aggregations battled on even during the entire third quarter, the ball changing hands during several times in a punting between Fox, Lion captain, and Rutherford tackle, who was from the line to do the booting of the Ramblers. Mars Hill pushed over a marker in the latter part of the final period when Rutherford recovered a Rutherford punt and the Lions netted seven yards on a pass from Rabb to Fox, from here Fox gained 14 yards on a half-tackle play to place the ball in the Ramblers' one-yard marker. Then went over for the touch-down and Rabb drop-kicked the extra the next kick-off Rutherford led the ball to Mars Hill's 40-yard line and from here they staged a g attack which was unsuccessful the first two attempts, but on the third try Fitzgerald and Bronson netted a 30-yard pass for the final touch-down. Bronson's kick for extra point hit the goal post but bounced over. The attacks then staged by both sides failed, and the contest ended in a deadlock.

Lines Do Well

game was featured with the both forward walls, but the line men showed a supremacy for the Rambler outfit. Very few yards were smeared behind the scrimmage by the Rutherford line, but by the ends who threw for a few losses on sweeping line plays. Edwards and Myrick stood up for the Mars Hill line while Nettle and Fox led the backs. Bronson and Rabb did most of the Rambler's work.

LOOKING IN ON GIRLS' SPORTS

With DOT TUTT

The tennis tournament for girls ended Saturday, October 22. No one person was declared winner as the tournament was of the ladder variety in which the contestants moved up and down as they won and lost. However, many changes took place in the standings. In the tournament the girls are listed, regardless of merit, and any girl is allowed to challenge any three girls whose name directly precedes hers. If the challenge is not met within forty-eight hours, the name of the challenger replaces that of the challenged one. If, however, the match is played and the challenger is victorious her name is advanced to her victim's position. However, if the challenged girl wins, the downs remain the same. The defeated player has the opportunity of again playing and thus it continues.

As to other sports, everyone has been so busy that no definite arrangements have been made about the Hiking or Archery clubs. However, archery practice has gotten under way, but so far very few bull's eyes have been registered. (This is not in reference to bull sessions.)

The C-1's and A-4's regretted very much that the Hiking club has not been formed as I hear the young gentlemen found out on the various picnics that the young ladies were not so fragile as they appeared, as they had to be pulled up the mountain. Watch that menu and them bon-bons.

And don't call me a fibber because I told you that the swimming pool would be opened. Really, you could at least look at it and anticipate the fun which you will have and they say that anticipation is half the fun. Anyway it may be opened in time for summer school, so don't be discouraged and don't be in a hurry.

the first buildings of the college were erected, presented the living descendants of Joe who were present. The marker, the gift of C. M. Palmer of the Palmer Stone Works of Albemarle, N. C., was unveiled by little Miss Ruth Carter Tilson and Master Edward Poole, great-great grandchildren of Edward Carter. The memorial bears the inscription, "In memory of Joe, a slave who was taken by the contractors of the first building of this college as a pledge for the debt due them, 1856."

LIONS DOWN OLD GRADS, 7-0

Pass, Rabb to Anderson, Nets Victory.

The Mountain Lions turned the tables on the Alumni team when they took revenge for the licking handed them last year, by trouncing the old grads 7 to 0.

The Whelp's lone touchdown came in the early part of the second period when Fox and Nettles advanced the ball from mid-field to the twenty yard marker by end runs and consecutive line bucks for first downs. A forward pass from here, W. Rabb to Anderson, was good for the marker, Anderson catching the throw on the five yard stripe and going over without being touched. W. Rabb's drop kick was good for the extra point.

Reese and Gibbs, Alumni quarter and center, were the outstanding men of the game. On several plays Reese reversed the field and made considerable gains through the center of the Lion's forward wall, while Gibbs made more than half the tackles on the defense. W. Rabb and Nettles led the local Lion eleven.

The contest between the school varsity and the Alumni team has been made an annual affair and much interest is being shown toward this Founders' Day game.

Wingate Falls Before Lion Team, 13-6

Nettles, Fox, and Hodges Shine For Whelps.

After tying Belmont Abbey in the season's opener, the Mountain Lions, with an improved team, came back a week later to give the heavier Wingate aggregation a 13 to 6 beating in the second game of the season.

Lions Score Twice

With both teams battling in mid-field, practically the entire first period, it looked as if it were going to be a stiff battle. But early in the second quarter the Whelps took hold of the game when W. Rabb tossed Fox a 25-yard pass for the first tally and during the remainder of the game the Lions pushed the ball into Wingate territory at will. Mars Hill's second marker was chalked up in the last period when Hodges intercepted a Wingate pass and carried it to Wingate's one yard stripe from where he bucked it over on the next play. His kick was also good for the extra point.

In the last minutes of the fourth quarter, Wingate resorted to their aerial attack and after gaining 40

THE LOWDOWN ON HIGHER SPORTS

By FRANK WATSON

Boost The Team

The tie game with Rutherford set the Lions back in the state championship race, but they are still in the running. Lees McRae seems to be in the lead since the Banner Elk "Bulldogs" have lost no conference contests and have already eked out a 2 to 0 decision over the Rutherford eleven. Mars Hill still stands a good chance to grab the state junior college honors since the Lions have so far been undefeated. They still have Boiling Springs, Lees McRae, Weaver, and Biltmore on the docket for this season and if they win over these aggregations they should hold an undisputed claim to the state junior college championship.

The dream of Mars Hill students was realized on Founders' Day when the swimming pool was really filled. The boys who gave their room deposits several years ago for the building of the pool were the first to get to take a plunge. Although a small leak was found and the pool had to be drained, it will be refilled within a few days.

Old and New Meet

The ex-Lions gave the varsity a pretty good battle when the Alumni tangled with Coach Roberts' present team on Founders' Day. The old grade rolled up eight first downs to Mars Hill's three and although they did not score they had possession of yards, Deaton passed to Griffin for Wingate's lone tally. The pass for an extra point failed.

Line Much Improved

The line showed much improvement over the Abbey game and several times the forward wall broke through to throw the Wingate backs for losses. Nettles, Fox, and Hodges were outstanding in the backfield. D. Rabb, first string tackle suffered a leg injury, which will doubtless handicap him throughout the remainder of the season.

The Lineups:

Mars Hill (13)	Pos.	(6) Wingate
Stroup	LE	Coble
D. Rabb	LT	Jenkins
Edwards	LG	Funderburke
Lowrance	C	Leonard
Myrick	RG	Griggs
McLeod	RT	Devreaux
Lumley	RE	Gaddy

the ball the greater part of the game. The score was reversed from last year's contest since the Alumni met a much stronger team than they did on the other occasion.

Several Ties

Mars Hill doesn't seem to be the only team to catch the contagious disease of tying football games. Although the Lions have tied two out of four contests, Wake Forest and Carolina are still in the race for the tie championship since each of these teams has fought two out of three battles to a deadlock. Last Saturday Mars Hill and Rutherford, Carolina and Georgia, Vanderbilt and Tulane, and several other southern teams battled to an even score.

Attention!

Two big games are to be played in the state this week and because of this the nation's eyes are being turned our way. On Saturday Duke and Wake Forest meet in a Big Five fray, but the big contest comes when "Honest" Ed Bunker's aggregation meets the Walnut High eleven Tuesday on the local soil. In order that the entire student body may witness this game the school officials have arranged for classes to be cut to 60 minute periods and dinner to be served at twelve o'clock. Tickets are on sale at the pool room down town.
